STILL IN GRIP OF HEAT WAVE

Temperature of 97 in Fort Wayne at 2 O'clock This Afternoon.

MUCH DISCOMFORT; FEW PROSTRATIONS

First Local Weather Forecast Holds Out Little Hope of Relief.

"Conditions favor local thundershowers in this section tonight or Thursday. It will continue warm tonight, but Thursday will probably be slightly cooler."

This is the first official weather forecast for Fort Wayne and vicinity, issued at 9 o'clock today from the Fort Wayne station of the United States weather bureau, as Forecaster W. S. Palmer's initial analysis of the weather probabilities for this region during the coming thirty-six hours.

But Still Hot Enough.

Today's temperature, while ranging slightly lower than that of yesterday, was still high enough to occasion much discomfort. It was approximately two degrees lower throughout the morning, and the forecaster expressed the belief that 96 or 97 would be the maximum for the day.

Starting with 76 degrees at 6 o'clock this morning the temperature had reached 81 at 8 o'clock. The 10 o'clock reading was 90 degrees and at noon today it was 95, as against 97 at the corresponding hour yesterday.

By 1 o'clock this afternoon the temperature had risen to 96 degrees, and at 2 o'clock the reading was 97. This is three degrees below yesterday's mark at the same hour, and a breeze which prevailed during much of today helped to modify the intensity of the heat.

Touched 100 Degrees.

Fourth of July brought to Fort Wayne the hottest day in many years, the temperature reaching 100 degrees at 2 o'clock p. m., and remaining at that figure for practically two hours. At 4 o'clock the drop had been but one degree, and three hours later even a slight shower, much heavier in the southern part of the city than in the central section, had served to lower the temperature only to 87 degrees. The night remained very hot, 75 degrees having been the lowest point reached by the temperature during the night.

There were one or two heat prostrations at the Driving park, but none of serious character, and while the suffering was intense about the city, a surprisingly small number of prostrations were reported for the day.

General Conditions Today.

"Unusually high temperatures continue throughout the central and eastern states, the highest morning temperatures being reported from the lower Missouri and middle Mississippi Valleys, and portions of the lake region. At Milwaukee, Chicago, St. Louis, Des Moines, Kansas City, Omaha and Concordia, the lowest temperature this morning was not below 80 degrees, and at 7 o'clock temperature of 86 degrees was reported from Chicago. An area of high pressure, accompanied by cool weather, covers the extreme northwest, temperatures from 40 to 50 degrees being reported from Montana and the adjacent British possessions.

"Some showers are reported from the upper Mississippi valley, the Lake Superior region, and between the Ohio valley and the gulf coast, twenty-four hour rainfalls in excess of one inch being reported from Marquette, New Orleans and Tampa."

Data From Many Points.

In making the special weather forecasts for Fort Wayne and vicinity, Forecaster Palmer takes into account not only his own observations, but reports on weather conditions from a total of 125 other weather bureau stations scattered over the entire country and many Canadian points, including the famous Medicine Hat, which figures prominently in the start of about all the "cold snaps" that come to this section.

Daily reports are received in Fort Wayne covering weather conditions in the following cities:

Abilene, Albany, Alpena, Atlanta, Atlantic City, Augusta, Battleford, Binghampton, Bismarck, Boise, Boston, Buffalo, Calgary Canton, Charles City, Charleston, Chatam, Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Concordia, Corpus Christi, Denver, Des Moines, Detroit, Dodge City, Dubuque, Duluth, Durango, Eastport, Edmonton, Erie, Escanaba, Father Point, Fort Smith, Fort Wayne, Galveston, Grand Haven, Grand Rapids, Green Bay, Halifax, Hatteras, Havre, Helena, Houghton, Huron, Indianapolis, Iola, Jacksonville, Kamloops, Kansas City, Knoxville, Lacrosse, Louisville, Marquette, Medicine Hat, Memphis, Miles City, Milwaukee, Minnedosa, Modena, Montreal, Moorhead, Montgomery, Nashville, New Orleans, New York, Norfolk, Northfield, North Platte, Oklahoma, Omaha, Parry Sound, Phoenix, Pierre, Pittsburg, Portland, Ore., Prince Albert, Plum Island, Port Arthur, Qu Appelle, Quebec, Raleigh, Rapid City, Rochester, Roseburg, Roswell, St. John, St. Louis, St. Paul, Salt Lake City, San Antonio, San Diego, San Francisco, Saugeon, Sault Ste Marie, Scranton, Seattle, Sheridan, Shreveport, Sioux City, Spokane, Springfield, Ill., Springfield, Mo., Stonecliffe, Swift Current Sydney, Syracuse, Tampa, Toledo, Toronto, Tucson, Washington, White River, Wichita, Williston, Winnipeg, Yellowstone Park, Fort Huron, Harbor Springs, Mackinaw.

SOME RELIEF IS IN SIGHT

Sun's Malign Fury Likely to Abate Somewhat by Tomorrow.

COOL WEATHER IN FAR NORTHWEST

Deadly Heat Continues Today Over Country from Rockies East.

Washington, July 5.—Refreshing westerly breezes all along the Atlantic coast today brought some relief from the hot wave to the eastern section of the country, though the government experts say there is no appreciable change in registered temperatures. Cooler weather tomorrow is promised for Chicago and the middle west region, where today started with the mercury even higher than it was at the same time yesterday.

Breaks in the torrid spell that has enveloped the entire country are being reported, the extreme northwest having a change to considerably cooler weather with temperatures dropping below the seasonable average. Slightly lower temperatures are reported, too, from the north Atlantic states and the Ohio valley and the weather bureau predicts that the change to cooler weather will spread over the middle and north plains states and the upper Mississippi valley within the next thirty-six to forty-eight hours, bringing material and much needed relief.

CHICAGO'S DEATH ROLL.

Chicago, July 5.—Deaths during the present hot wave have swamped the coroner's office, which must hold inquests in all cases of sudden or unexplained deaths.

"We had 48 inquests Monday and 21 yesterday, most of them due directly or indirectly to the heat," said Coroner Hoffman today. "My force is overworked and I have been compelled to desert all other work and assist in the investigations."

Despite the long list of prostration cases cared for by the authorities, the health department estimates not more than 1 per cent of the cases are publicly reported. Many are revived at the drug stores and a great number at their homes. Two deaths, directly due to heat, and a third superinduced thereby, were reported up to noon. Nothing like complete reports on the prostrations were available but the forenoon roll is estimated at fifty.

Chicago faced another record breaking hot day with no relief in sight be-

SMALL BOY SEES BROTHERS DROWN

Older of Two Drowns Trying to Rescue One from Water.

SWEPT INTO RAPIDS

Newport, Ky., July 5.—A twelve year old boy was the sole witness of a double drowning late yesterday that brought death to his two elder brothers in the Ohio river near Carntown, Ky. News of the tragedy reached here today, when the case was reported to the coroner of Campbell county.

Louis Faulhauber, 15 years old, was in bathing, while the two brothers, Frank, aged 19, and Willie, aged 12, sat on bank fishing, when suddenly Louis cried for help and without removing his clothes the older boy leaped into the water. After he reached his brother, the two were caught in a whirlpool and swept to the south, while the young youth watched the vain struggle for life.

THE OLD FASHIONED KIND.

Philadelphia Does Up the Day to a Sanguinary Finish.

Philadelphia, July 5.—A recapitulation of the celebration of Independence day in Philadelphia was made today and shows that it was as near an "old fashioned Fourth" as any one would want it. To begin with it was the hottest Fourth in thirteen years and there were eleven deaths from heat and many prostrations. Twelve persons were drowned in the rivers and creeks in and about Philadelphia while bathing; there were two murders, several attempted murders and numerous brawls and about four hundred persons were treated at hospitals for injuries received in handling fireworks. Among the injured are some serious cases, but no deaths are expected unless tetanus follows.

PLEAD NOT GUILTY.

Chicago Packers Arraigned Under Recent Indictments.

Chicago, July 5.—Through counsel the packers indicted some time ago for violation of the Sherman anti-trust law pleaded not guilty today. Their trial is set for November 20. The proceedings occupied but five minutes.

START OF EUROPEAN AIR RACE IN WHICH TWO MET DEATH.

SPECTATORS AT VINCENNES WATCHING START OF INTERNATIONAL CIRCUIT AIR RACE

Three aviators lost their lives and five were injured the first day of the great international cross country air race the European circuit, which started at Paris, bound for Utrecht, Brussels, London and back to Paris. Two of the aviators met death shortly after the accompanying photograph was taken and the third was killed at Chateau Thierry, thirty miles from Paris. Five fell within a few miles of the start and were injured. Mons Vedrines and Mons Garros, who are shown above, are the winners of the big race, Vedrines finishing first and Garros second.

BALL PLAYER MET HIS DEATH

Struck by a Fast Train on the Wabash and Instantly Killed.

CORUNNA HIS HOME

[Special to The Sentinel.]

Auburn, Ind., July 5.—George Griffith, of Corunna, a baseball player of that town, was instantly killed last evening about 8 o'clock at Helmer, a station a few miles from Ashley, by being struck by an eastbound fast train on the Wabash road.

With other members of the ball team from Corunna, Griffith was returning home in a livery rig from Mongo, where they had played ball in the afternoon with the team from that place. The entire team, with John Guthrie as driver, were in the wagon, ten in all, as they approached the Wabash crossing at Helmer.

The approaching train was not seen by the driver until itw as nearly on them and he whipped up the horses carrying himself and them safely over the tracks. The other occupants, however, the members of the ball team, jumped from the wagon, all escaping serious injuries excepting Griffith. He alighted so close to the tracks that he was struck by the steam chest of the locomotive, hurled beneath the wheels, and crushed to death.

Three of the occupants of the wagon, Estell Goodwin, John Hissong and Clayton Murphy, had narrow escapes from death. In jumping they fell to the ground and when the train whizzed past them they were lying only a few inches outside of the rails.

Griffith, the young man who was killed, was 19 years of age, his parents residing in Corunna. He was well known and highly esteemed. His body was taken last evening to his home at Corunna.

HAVING A GOOD TIME.

American Naval Cadets Make a Trip to Berlin.

Kiel, Germany, July 5.—Accompanied by fifteen officers, 431 cadets of the American training squadron, which anchored here last week, left here today on a special train for Berlin, where they expected to remain for several days in a sight seeing tour of the German capital.

Emperor William, who has been at Kiel for several days, left for Norway today on board the imperial yacht Hohenzollern. The yacht was convoyed by the German cruiser Kolhery and the Norwegian dispatch boat Sleipner. The emperor was accompanied only by civilians. Among the number were Prof. Paul Guessfeldt, the Alpine explorer, and the marine painter, Bohrdt.

DRAMATIC CRITIC IS DEAD.

Franklin Fyles, Long With New York Sun, Passes Away.

New York, July 5.—Franklin Fyles, for thirty years dramatic editor and critic of the New York Sun, is dead at his home here from heart disease. He was born in Troy, N. Y., sixty-four years ago. About eight years ago failing health compelled him to leave the Sun and since then he had supplied dramatic criticisms and notes to twenty-five or more out of town papers.

Mr. Fyles was the author of several selections of short stories and one book on the stage. His most familiar work was "The Girl I Left Behind Me" which he wrote in collaboration with David Belasco.

OXFORD DEFEATS CAMBRIDGE.

London, July 5.—In the annual intercollegiate cricket match held at Lords, Oxford defeated Cambridge today by 74 runs.

SUN IS BLASTING THE CORN FIELDS

Great Bulge in Corn on the Chicago Board of Trade.

CROP IS BURNING UP

Chicago, July 5.—Continuance of withering heat over the corn belt was reflected in an exciting corn market today, the market selling early to an extreme advance of 4¾c as compared with the close last Saturday.

Buying orders flooded the pit, and quotations varied as much as 2½c in different parts at the opening. July corn closed Saturday at 61¼c and advanced to 65c today. September rose to 66c, compared with the previous close at 62c. Oats shared in the excitement, advancing an extreme 2¼c.

Crops Burned Up.

A private telegram from Kansas City says:

"No precedent to go by, as there have been no records like these. Temperature Saturday and Sunday in the fields were from 106 to 115 degrees. Private advices from all over the corn belt tell the same story—Oklahoma burned to a crisp; Kansas scorched from one end to the other."

It is reported that implement dealers have cancelled many orders.

Word from southern Illinois that the heat has turned corn tassels from green to white was advanced heavy

ICE FAMINE IS THE PROSPECT

A Continuance of Torrid Weather May Inflict Added Hardship.

MISHAP IN ICE PLANT

With a continuation of the extremely warm weather that the city has been subjected to for the last few days, it looks very much as though there will be an ice famine in Fort Wayne; especially is it true concerning the artificial ice question.

The Fred H. Jones artificial ice plant had a serious mishap last evening about 6 o'clock, and no ice will be manufactured by that company for a week or ten days. The ammonia exchanger blew out and workmen will be busy several days making repairs. The Consumers' Ice company has been purchasing most of its artificial ice from the Jones company, but it is understood that the Consumers' company has other sources of a limited supply. The Peter C. Moran Ice company flatly refused to make any statement concerning its supply and the man in charge of the office grew very indignnt when he was asked a simple question by a Sentinel reporter as to the ice situation.

At present there are on an average nine cars of lake ice received in the city ach day, but this scarcely meets the demand and the companies are being restricted more as the weather continues warm.

LITTLE HOOSIER HERO.

Bowling Green, Ind., July 5.—When Carl Weidner, one of a party of three twelve-year-old boy bathers had almost drowned in Eel river and had dragged a second boy, Emmet Boyer, under the water, the third and smallest boy sprang into the deep channel and managed to get them out alive. There is talk of placing the case before the Carnegie Hero Fund commission.

TAFT TRAIN HAS NUMEROUS HALTS

Mishaps and Wrecks Put President Behind in His Schedule.

HEAT 90 IN HIS CAR

Pittsburg, July 5.—President Taft spent eleven minutes in this city today, en route to Washington from Indianapolis. The train was an hour late reaching here. A special train consisting of an engine, one day coach and the president's car, "Ideal," was made up here and will run to Harrisburg on special schedule.

When the president's train was nearing Steubenville, Ohio, early this morning the air pumps on the engine went out of commission. A new engine was attached to the train, but there was forty minutes delay. At Carnegie, below this city, a freight engine jumped the track at a switch a few minutes before the president's train was due. This accident held the train about twenty minutes.

Mr. Taft denied admittance to all callers while at the Union station here.

Notwithstanding that several electrical fans were in operation, the temperature was 91 degrees in the car and the president was working laboriously with his handkerchief wiping away perspiration, which rolled down his face.

GUN EXPLODED IN HANDS.

Rudolph Guttman Has Narrow Escape From Fatal Accident.

Rudolph, the 14-year-old son of Pius Guttman, of Eckart street, was badly injured about 7 o'clock Tuesday evening by the accidental discharge of a shotgun loaded with powder and paper packing which he had taken from an ice cream wagon on the street. The gun exploded while he was holding it, and the charge tore an ugly wound in his right shoulder and badly burned the right side of his face and the ball of his right eye. He was removed to St. Joseph's hospital and later to his home. Dr. Philip Titus, who attended the injured lad, stated to The Sentinel this morning that he did not anticipate any serious results from the injuries.

POWER BOAT REGATTA.

Interesting Races on the Mississippi River at Dubuque.

Dubuque, Iowa, July 5.—With the championship contest for forty foot boats as the feature, the third day of the Mississippi Valley Power Boat regatta gave promise of many interesting events and an attendance at least equaling that of yesterday. The distance for the championship is twenty miles and the entries include some of the best known speed-makers in the valley rivers.

The morning program comprised races for canopy, half-cabin and cabin boats and a contest for cruisers with full equipment on board; distance, ten miles.

COOK'S EXPOSER GOES BACK.

Seattle, Wash., July 5.—Prof. Herschel Parker, of New York, noted for his efforts to climb Mount McKinley and for his exposure of Dr. Frederick Cook, sailed for Valdez today on the steamship Admiral Sampson. While in Alaska he will make arrangements for an expedition to ascend Mount McKinley next February.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 5.—Harry N. Atwood, the aviator, announced this morning that he would not make his proposed flight from this place to Washington today. The reason given is that the wind is unfavorable.

TAFT TARGET FOR CUMMINS

Iowa Insurgent Cuts Into President for Reciprocity Speech.

CRITICISES HIM FOR GOING FORTH

Declares His Methods Expose Him Fairly to Adverse Talk.

Washington, July 5.—President Taft's pro-reciprocity speeches in Indiana Monday and Tuesday were sharply criticised in the senate today by Senator Cummins.

"When the president abandons the duties of his office and enters upon a campaign to mould or lead public opinion on this reciprocity bill," said Mr. Cummins, "then he is on the same level as any other man and cannot be exempt from the criticism to be attached to the arguments he uses."

WILL NOT FORCE VOTE.

Washington, July 5.—At a conference of senators today, participated in by Messrs. Penrose and Smoot, republicans, and Martin and Stone, democrats, it was decided not to press daily for the fixing of a date to vote on the reciprocity bill so long as there are senators prepared to speak on the measure.

It was determined, however, to endeavor to fix the hour of convening daily at 11 a. m. instead of noon.

Senator Stone, of Missouri, urged Chairman Penrose again to ask for a definite date for the vote. Mr. Penrose promptly announced his intention of bringing the matter before the senate. The conference followed and Senator Penrose announced the change of plans. Mr. Penrose was inclined to urge 10 a. m. as the meeting hour, but the democratic senators contended there should be no appearance of harshness and their opinion was accepted.

TO FRAME COTTON SCHEDULE.

Washington, July 5.—Chairman Underwood has called a meeting of the democratic members of the house ways and means committee for tomorrow to begin framing a revision of the cotton tariff schedule.

FOUR MEN KILLED IN A COLLISION

Extra and Gravel Train on Soo Line Crash Near Superior, Wis.

ORDERS WERE MIXED

Superior, Wis., July 5.—Four men were killed and three badly injured in a collision between an extra and a gravel train on the Soo Line, Chicago division, a few miles from this city early today. The dead and injured are being brought to Superior. Mixed train orders are said to have caused the collision.

The trains met on a bridge over the Nemadji river, the bridge catching fire.

Fire apparatus is being rushed to the scene of the wreck from here. The dead and injured are all railroad men.

PRINCE HENRY HEADS TOUR.

Kaiser's Brother Leads Automobile Endurance Contest.

Homburg, Germany, July 5.—Headed by Prince Henry of Prussia, 37 German and 28 English participants started today on the annual Prince Henry Automobile Endurance tour. The course for this year's tour starts here and follows a devious way through Germany to Hamburg. At that port the automobiles entered in the tour will be shipped to Southampton, England. There they will again take to the road, proceeding to Edinburgh and returning to London. Among the English cars entered is one by the Duke of Connaught. The only American car was entered by Captain J. A. Loder-Symonds of the English army.

THEY MIGHT HAVE SPARED HIM.

Washington, July 5.—Commander Alfred A. Pratt, U. S. N., died at Mare Island hospital yesterday, three days after having been retired by the "plucking board" of the navy department. Pratt was born in Sycamore, Ill., thirty-eight years ago and entered the navy service in 1889. During the Spanish-American war he served on the cruiser Marblehead.

THREE DEAD IN AUTO CRASH.

Chicago, July 5.—Mrs. Henry C. Gordee, 30 years old, a resident of Austin, died today at Lagrange, Ill., of injuries received Tuesday, when an automobile in which she and her husband and two children were riding was struck by a railroad train. The two children were instantly killed.

GET TOGETHER BEHIND TAFT

That is the Cry Raised from Banquet Board in Indianapolis.

STATE LEADERS WERE AT TABLE

Party Solidarity is the Latest Hope of the Republicans.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 5.—What effect will the visit of President Taft have upon bringing the factions of the republican party in the state together" is a question that is being asked by many party leaders today.

Leaders from all over Indiana sat together at the banquet last night and listened attentively to the speech of the president upon his favorite theme, reciprocity. It was the first time in years that many of the leaders had met together on any occasion.

Fairbanks Sounds Keynote.

One of the features of the banquet was the speech of former Vice President Fairbanks, when he declared that the republican party of Indiana was for the president.

His speech was roundly cheered and many republicans declared it was the first republican speech they had heard in years. When Mr. Fairbanks said that the party was "free from demagogy and free from the hysteria that blights and destroys," the big banquet hall resounded with mighty cheers.

Mr. Fairbanks also assured the president that the republicans of Indiana were for him now and would be for him in 1912.

"Mr. president, we are with you. We will continue to be with you. You may feel that the great heart of the republican party of Indiana is loyal to you and to republicanism. Republicans in Indiana have faith in your judgment and in your integrity of purpose.

Taft Will Continue Campaign.

"The great national campaign next year will turn on the great issues with which you have gone to the people. The outcome of that great campaign will depend largely on the success of the issues you are presenting to the people."

One leader said today that a movement would be started at once to line up the party organization for 1912 and get behind the president for the next campaign.

President Taft was greatly pleased with his visit. It was the first time he had come to this state since he has been president.

ARRAIGNMENTS POSTPONED.

New York, July 5.—This was the day set for the arraignment of the 84 men indicted by the federal grand jury last week in connection with the alleged wire pools, but attorneys for both sides agreed to defer action, and the arraignments probably will not be made until next Monday. The postponement was due to the absence from town of many of the defendants and attorneys.

FIGHT GAME GOT A SOLAR PLEXIS

Chicago Heights Puts a Damper on Goodman-Roberts Bout.

MINISTERS APPEAL

Chicago, July 1.—That long standing grudge between Jack Roberts and Danny Goodman, local lightweights, remains unsettled. Their scheduled fight to have been staged before the Chicago Heights club last night was halted by Sheriff Zimmer on an order from Governor Deneen, following an appeal to the executive by the Ministerial association of the suburban town.

The lightweights were on the ground and a crowd of near 500 people assembled in Bonath's Opera house waiting for the fighters to come from their dressing-rooms. Instead of the rival pugilists, however, two deputies and a bailiff climbed into the ring an announced that the battle would not take place. Five automobiles, loaded to the guards with Chicago fistic fans, had made the trip to witness the bout. The telegram to Sheriff Zimmer from Governor Deneen ordering the bout stopped follows:

Following telegram received: Chicago Heights, Ill., June 30. Governor Charles S. Deneen, Springfield, Ill.:—Prize fight scheduled for Chicago Heights tonight between Jack Roberts and Danny Good. Mayor away. Will you have it stopped? Chicago delegation leaves at 6:30 from 170 Washington street by automobile.

FRANK E. WILSON,
EDGAR D. SALKELD,
Ministers' Association.

I bring matter to your attention so that the law may be enforced.

It is said that monthly shows have been staged in Chicago Heights since last fall, but that only the "initiated" knew that the bouts were to take place. The Goodman-Roberts affair, however, was widely advertised in Chicago, and no pretense was made to keep quiet the proposed scene of the scheduled battle.

Goodman and Roberts have been matched no less than twenty times during the last three years, but never have they fought. Each time the go has been called off for some reason or other. Fans looked for a sure settlement of the grudge last night, and the intervention of the authorities was a surprise.

FROM THE BOX SCORES

Max Carey got two doubles for the benefit of the home rooters who knew him as a student at St. Louis but the Pirates were stopped in the ninth by Sallee who went to the rescue of Steele. St. Louis drove Camnitz from the box in the early stages of the game.

Hal Chase threw the ball into the third base bleachers at Boston and his misplay gave the Red Sox the winning run over the Highlanders.

Ed Walsh pitched in old time form and held the Naps to four hits and one run. The White Sox routed Cy Young in the seventh inning.

Will Robertson went in when Link weakened in the eighth inning at Indianapolis and held Kansas City safe while Jimmy Burke's troupe gave the Kaws a trouncing.

Dixie Walker gave Philadelphia only six hits but they were bunched on him and counted enough runs to beat him.

Boston went after Wiltse in the first and third innings and chased him while Perdue was pitching steady ball all the time for the Pilgrims and was never in any serious danger.

Frank Chance, who had been out of the game for thirty-one days, got back on first at Cincinnati yesterday and his club pulled out a victory.

Cheney scored his twelfth straight victory when he defeated St. Paul at Louisville.

SIMPSON IS CHAMPION.

Kenosha Golfer Beat Tom McNamara at Grand Rapids.

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 1.—Bob Simpson, of Kenosha, Wis., won the western open golf championship at the Kent Country club here yesterday for the second time, defeating Tom McNamara, of Boston, 2 and 1, in a hard fought thirty-six-hole match.

Although Simpson was 4 up at one time during the morning he had a lead of only one at the finish of the first round and McNamara squared the match twice during the afternoon only to have the determined westerner again go to the front and finish there.

Simpson is generally regarded as the best and steadiest match player in the country, and has lived up to his reputation here this week. McNamara displayed great grit in an uphill battle, the same as he did against Wilbur Oakes, of Detroit yesterday, but the easterner could not conquer the Kenosha man.

SUCCESS CAUSES A RASH PROMISE

Wheeler Said He Would Be in First Division July 1.

SMITH GROWS TIRED

Terre Haute, Ind., July 1.—Edward J. Wheeler, who last season won the Central league pennant as manager of the South Bend club, this morning resigned as manager of the Terre Haute team and was made a free agent by Louis D. Smith, owner of the franchise. Wheeler's successor has not yet been selected. Wheeler's resignation was asked for last night by Mr. Smith.

Wheeler will return to South Bend, but does not expect to play ball the remainder of the season.

Eddie Wheeler's success at South Bend last season when he won a pennant for the city after a year of friction with Bert Annis in the course of which he followed his own ideas and proved they were correct, is the prime cause of his trouble at Terre Haute as he was rash enough to promise a first division team by the first of July.

Instead of holding a good place in the race he is hopelessly in last place and while ill luck has been in a measure responsible for this his patrons would probably not be after his scalp if he had gone ahead quietly and organized his team with the same modesty that characterized the work of the other managers.

Louis D. Smith, owner of the team, has spent money freely to get players and he has no complaint on this score but he wanted results and he has not obtained them which made him tired and he asked his pilot to quit.

Wheeler made a contract for three years and he can hold Smith to this unless there are some stipulations that were not made public. However there is little danger that he will refuse to step down and out and this may mean his transfer to Newark where no selection has been made.

The wild story that Bert Annis will transfer his team to Grand Rapids does not look good on the surface. Bertram has tried it there before and he has no more kindly regard for the baseball public than it has for him.

He knows that South Bend will pay with a winning team and he has been unfortunate this season in not getting a good start so that the old rivalry with Fort Wayne would help him out.

LITTLE BITS OF SPORTS. CHATTER.

Dolly Stark was spiked by Josh Devore a few days ago and is out of the game with Brooklyn.

George Nill and Earl Sykes each got a home run for Chattanooga Thursday and helped win the game.

Chicago and Pittsburg each drew 7,000 people to week-day games during the week and Roger Bresnahan evidently has struck a wave of deserved popularity.

Somebody is worrying about a name for the Newark club. Not worth while to do this. The fans will name them after a game or two.

Chester King has been found wanting by the Wheeling management and will be sent to the Blue Grass league in Kentucky.

Ben Koehler will play better baseball from now on. Scanlon played second for him yesterday while he was at home in South Bend welcoming the storks. She's a girl.

Umpire Silk O'Loughlin says Cobb is the hardest man to umpire behind that he ever had any experience with. The Georgia Peach is always in some close play or another and wants all the close decisions.

When Pat Moran's catching days are over, President Fogel will retain him to help out in the spring training and to act as scout. But judging from the way Pat has been catching this season he is booked to remain an active Phil for a long time.

The latest of the Leach rumors was heard the other night when a fan, who claims to know, stated that a deal had been consummated between the Pittsburg and Cincinnati clubs whereby Tommy Leach, the Pirates' star center fielder is to be traded in exchange for Big Bob Bescher, the speedy Red left fielder.

The Kalamazoo club of the South Michigan league boasts a genuine "comeback" in the person of Jacobson, the left-handed pitcher who was released to the Celery city team by the South Bend team as not good enough, the supposition being based upon his showing with the Grand Rapids club last season. The big southpaw is showing such form of late that a number of big league teams are reported to have made handsome offers for his release. Jacobson once had his fling in swell society and dropped back as not quite up to the requirements.

AUBURN FANS IN LINE FOR FIGHT

Coming Down Here to Pull for Home Team in Shamrock Gam.

CROWD IS COMING

Up Auburn way Mart Cleary and his Shamrocks are regarded as a cheesty bunch of base ballists and the great ambition of the rooters from DeKalb's metropolis is to defeat the Cleary crowd on its home grounds.

This is the principal reason so many fans are coming down for the game at League park tomorrow afternoon. If the defeat that they expect to see administered goes through then there will be something to talk about up there for the remainder of the week.

There are some pretty good amateur and semi-professional ball players around northeastern Indiana and Auburn is after the pick of the lot to get a club that will carry home a victory tomorrow night. This Reynolds, who is to do the hurling, is prime favorite among baseball followers in Auburn and he has been burning things up in the bailiwick to which he was assigned this season.

That's not all. Kid Hull, Jimmy Quinlan and Ranier are to come along too for fear that Reynolds may not be as hard a proposition for the team here as he has been up around Auburn, so if he hits the bumps there will be a good man or two to send in in his place.

In the meantime Manager Cleary is not overlooking any bets. He is not loading up for the occasion but will have his regular team in the field and either Hewes or Herb Smith will pitch for him. Hoffer will be behind the bat and the game will be called at 3 o'clock. Bauserman, a Monroeville lad, is catching for the Auburn club.

YALE FRESHMEN WIN.

Harvard Varsity Crew Did Its Part but Freshmen Fail.

New London, Conn., July 1.—Harvard's effort to sweep the Thames yesterday for the third consecutive year was not quite accomplished, for although the Crimson won the great varsity event in runaway style by 10 lengths and the substitute varsity fours by five lengths, the Yale freshmen captured the initial event. Harvard's giant varsity eight shook off the lighter Yale crew at the start and was never even challenged throughout the four miles. It was the fourth consecutive victory of the big crew for Harvard, a record that has not come to Cambridge for nearly half a century.

The official time for the three races was:

Varsity Race—Harvard, 22 minutes 44 seconds; Yale, 23 minutes, 40⅕ seconds.

Freshman—Yale, 11 minutes, 53 seconds; Harvard, 11 minutes, 59⅕ seconds.

Varsity Fours—Harvard, 13 minutes, 37⅕ seconds; Yale, 13 minutes, 52 seconds.

SOMERLOTT SENT BEHIND THE BAT

All Eddie Wheeler's Combinations Failed and Tots Lost.

GAMES IN CENTRAL

Jack Somerlott was sent behind the bat in the game at Terre Haute after both of Eddie Wheeler's catchers had been forced out of the game and Bobby Grogan, who has only to pitch an inning or two to have Guy Sample tied for versatility, went to first base.

The battle was an eleven inning affair in which South Bend scored the winning run on one of the quartet of wild heaves that Billiard worked out of his system in the course of the encounter. The Tots took a good lead in the second inning and held it to the fifth and each team scored two runs in the eighth and then went three rounds more when Billiard cut in with his bum throw. Terre Haute had thirteen men in the game.

Joe Raidy and his Potters stopped Dayton with Frank Winchell in the box. Rogers, who lost to Fort Wayne Tuesday held the Veterans to seven hits and of this number Punch Knoll got three, two of which went for three bases apiece while the other was only a double. The game was tied up to the last half of the eighth when Dayton went to pieces and Zanesville scored four runs.

Newark showed better form since the players got their pay and split the double bill with Aggie Grant and his Hoohoos. Roy Hale pitched the second game and allowed three hits in seven innings. The scores:

ONCE WAS ENOUGH FOR HARTSEL

"It was my fortune once," says Tops Harizel of the world's champion athletics, "to spend a pleasant and tumultuous evening with G. Edward Waddell, more generally known as 'Rube,' and at the same time in the zenith of his big league fame. Just once, and only once, I never cared for any more of the same, thank you.

"The Athletics were just swinging into the championship of 1905, thanks in a great measure to the glorious pitching of the Rube, and he was one of the most popular citizens of Philadelphia. This particular evening he approached me and explained that we could have the time of our lives, if we felt so inclined. First of all said he, we would go to supper. We did, but the supper was interrupted to some extent, because Mr. Waddell happening to meet a man in the dining-room whom he did not like, smote him over the bean with a whitefish, a proceeding which seemed to be somewhat outside the limits of the menu.

"After supper Mr. Waddell said he would take me back of the scenes to a certain theatre, where melodrama is the rage. I had never been behind the curtain and was delighted, more so, when the stage hands all recognizing Rube, treated us with great honor and courtesy. The play was a wild western thing, chockful of shooting. As we came into the dim recesses behind the stage, one of the few quiet minutes of the show was taking place—the hero was just looking into the eyes of the heroine and telling her how much he loved her. Not a sound broke the tense silence—and just then Rube, picking up a gun that was standing ready for the villian, pulled the trigger.

"It cracked the love scene, and the stage hands threw Mr. Waddell out, and I went with him.

"'They are not gentlemen in there,' said Mr. Waddell. 'Let's go to the —— theatre, where Howard Hall is playing. He's my pal.'

"So we went to another house and again we got behind the scenes. Rube was popular—honest, he was. If you remember Howard Hall's old play, 'The Man Who Dared,' you will remember that a den of lions furnished the thrills. The cage was standing back in the wings, and Mr. Waddell in his merry way, insulted one of the lions. Just as Rube grabbed the lion by the tail, the beast swung round and struck—and they picked up the Rube with his sleeve ripped off and a big red gash in his arm. And again we were thrown out in the alley.

"'Topsy,' said Rube, 'don't forget, now, we had a row with a couple of guys that said Connie Mack was a no-good son of a hyena, and one of them slashed me with a knife when I defended Connie's reputation. You've got a black eye—that'll make the play a good deal stronger. Maybe we can touch him for $20 each if we tell it good.'

"I never went out for a social evening with Mr. Waddell any more. His ideas of diversion are too strenuous for a man like me."

VALLIERE WANTS ANOTHER CHANCE

Likely Candidate for the Pitching Job in Second Game.

ROUTED IN FIRST

Wheeling, W. Va., July 1.—Bradley Valliere has asked a chance to go back against the Stogies in the second game of the series and although Manager Casey had not fully made up his mind to send him in it is certain that he will pitch one of the remaining games and Ed Pfeiffer will work in the other. The club will leave here Sunday night to be at home for the Dayton series which begins on Monday.

Owner Claude H. Varnell had heard good accounts of his new purchase and was at Island park to see Valliere work in the opening game with Wheeling. He had never seen him before and was naturally disappointed but will have another opportunity to look over the Kalamazoo hurler before the club closes its engagement here.

The Frenchman developed an unusual propensity for smashing batters in the floating ribs and twice during his brief stay on the mound he tried to cave in Lewis' left side and his teammates wondered not a little at his loss of control as that has been one of his strong points in his previous games.

Manager Casey had his eyes set on three straight here to put him in good shape for his battles with Dayton on Monday and on the Fourth of July and another disappointment came to him in the loss of the opening struggle. He has no kick coming as he was one of the chief offenders and is responsible for at least one of the runs made by the Stogies by reason of an error that he injected into the play.

Charlie Alberts did not show as well in the game after he had been sent to the rescue as he has shown on the Fort Wayne lot in his two appearances and he had nothing particularly baffling for the smoke stickers who got to him for nine hits and took them when they were of the greatest value.

The game was a nightmare from the first inning to the close and was so full of misplays that the men were glad when it was all over. Lewis was the chief offender and three of the five errors made by his club were charged to his account. His fielding has been erratic. Manager Mongomery was again out of the line-up and had Catcher Murray working in his place in the outfield.

Fort Wayne was retired easily in the first inning of the game and two of the Stogie's batsmen had been disposed of in the Wheeling liaif before there was any serious trouble. Lewis was plunked in the side for a starter and Benny Jewell advanced him with a bunt but Knisely failed to get him home leaving the task to Durham, who hit for two bases. Servatius picked off a triple and sent Durham home and he scored when Casey muffed the return of the ball from the outfield.

Two more were added in the second when Sager hit for two bags and scored on Welscher's single. Beatty moved his battery partner with a bunt and in his effort to complete a double on Jewell's roller to Casey, Vandagrift threw wild to first and Welscher counted.

Onslow's triple in the third didn't get him a run although one was tabbed in the inning by McLafferty, who batted for Valliere and was passed. Young hit with the bases full in the fourth and scored two of the three runs and in the fifth Fort Wayne tied. Alberts opened with a double and Blount got a pass. Justice hit, scoring Alberts and Blount took third completing the route on Keener's sacrifice fly.

With the score hooked up Fort Wayne worked hard but Alberts could not hold the Wheeling team in the seventh and eighth rounds and two runs were made in each, taking the first game the club has won at home since its return from a rather disastrous trip to Evansville, Terre Haute, Grand Rapids and South Bend. Graham pitched good ball after he succeeded Beatty and with good support would not have been scored against. The score:

YALE AND HARVARD ATHLETES OFF FOR LONDON.

YALE AND HARVARD TEAM ON BOARD THE S. S. VADERLAND

Amid the cheers of a big band of enthusiastic undergraduates and alumni the combined track and field teams of Yale and Harvard left New York on June 24 on board the Vaderland, of the Red Star line, for London, where they will engage the athletes of Oxford and Cambridge in a dual meet on July 11. Seventeen runners, jumpers and weight throwers were in the party that got a noisy "Bon voyage" and departed with the well wishes of the whole country.

SCOUTS PREPARE FOR GREAT TIMES

Robison Park Camp in Order—Baseball, Swimming, Fishing.

TO CAMP UNTIL AUG. 1

For the next four weeks one of the most interesting features of Robison park will be the Boy Scout camp which is tucked snugly away behind the park theater. The camp opened yesterday with the raising of the flag and the preliminary drills conducted by Messrs. Singleton and Jackson, but the real camping part of it started today with the bean and breakfast food breakfast set out by the lads.

The camp is laid out in regular military fashion. There is a camp street with five tents on either side and a noble flagstaff in the center. Eight of the tents are to be used as sleeping tents and the two remaining are to be used as cooking and hospital headquarters. Each sleeping tent contains three cots.

Many of the youngsters were in attendance at the opening of the encampment, but the tents were practically deserted this morning as most of the lads were compelled to return to the city. The boys who were left in charge of the place have been having an extremely warm time, and as there is little shade in the camp the full company will not report until evening.

When the representative of The Sentinel sauntered into the camp at 11 o'clock this morning there was little doing. One lonely scout was awakened from pleasant dreams, and in a moment the bugle was sounding the call to camp. Several sunburned, khaki clad lads responded to the call, and in a little while the youngsters had voiced all their plans for the month's outing. The boys told of their experiences at cooking, building their big campfire in the woods, and corralling the ponies belonging to the man who has charge of the pony track. The lads are counting on great times in the river and it is their plan to clean out an old-fashioned swimming hole for their private use. Some of the campers are keen fishermen and of course the fish of the St. Joseph river will have to take care. A Boy Scout ball team is being projected and when two full nines report at the park there will be some lively doings for the young Cobbs and Wagners. Company drilling will take place every evening during the encampment and by the first of August the Scouts will undoubtedly be in excellent trim for the big encampment at Clear lake.

EFFORT TO FIND SOURCE OF HELP

If Mastraino's Friends Aided They Can Be Arrested For It.

TOO MANY WEAPONS

An effort will be made by the police to ascertain the source of the aid extended to Rafello Mastraino, who shot and killed Paul Yonta, on Melita street Monday evening, in making his escape from the police and prosecution will follow if it is learned that any of his friends supplied him with money to aid him in evading the officers.

He ran from the scene of his crime hatless and coatless, but he had money to pay his way from Dixon, Ohio, to Pittsburg, where he was taken into custody. If it can be learned that he communicated with his friends here and obtained money to help him get away, affidavits will be filed against the people who supplied it.

The arrest was affected through the aid of Capt. Henry Stoll's Pennsylvania police force and it was the men of the road's police force that apprehended the man at Rochester, Pa., while he was on his way to Pittsburg and turned him over to the Pittsburg police.

Capt. Stoll used the men of his force and all of the facilities at his command in bringing about the arrest and was successful in getting his man into the hands of the officers.

The arrest was made on the Pennsylvania train by Lieutenant Betts and Lieutenant Welsner, of the Pennsylvania police. Lieutenant Betts was formerly a member in Fort Wayne of Captain Stoll's squad.

The first definite clue to Mastriano came from H. E. Wiseman, the Pennsylvania ticket agent at Dixon, Ohio, who notified Captain Stoll that the supposed murderer had purchased a ticket there and he furnished the number of it. Agent Wiseman, who is a telegraph operator, had heard messages going over the wires concerning the murderer and his escape, and the descriptions wired answered closely the appearance of the man to whom he had sold a ticket.

Captain Stoll is of the opinion that Mastriano did not go far west, but circled Fort Wayne and got to Dixon, which is nineteen miles from Fort Wayne, either by walking or on the Fort Wayne and Lima interurban line.

Mastraino is said to have boarded a Pennsylvania freight at Arcola, after he had shaken off his pursuers, and to have doubled back through Fort Wayne, leaving the freight at Dixon, Ohio. However, it is more likely that he returned here and was kept in hiding and supplied with money to help him escape.

Detective Sergeant Pappert left last night for Pittsburg and will return late tonight or tomorrow morning with his prisoner, who has signified his willingness to return without requisition papers. Police officers are of the opinion that certain elements of the foreigners in Fort Wayne carry too many weapons and that some very drastic means should be used to prevent crimes among them. Most of them have either knives or revolvers and are always ready to do murder.

STEEL INTERESTS MEET.

World's Big Makers Represented at Brussels.

Brussels, Belgium, July 5.—The steel interests of America, Canada, England, France, Germany, Belgium, Italy, Austria and Spain were represented by 160 delegates who met in conference today here.

Judge E. H. Gary, chairman of the U. S. Steel corporation, presided.

During the first session of two hours when there was a free discussion all who took part approved in principle the organization of an international body.

TAFT TARGET FOR CUMMINS

control industrial corporations, as the interstate commerce commission controls the railroads, was embodied in a bill introduced and advocated in the senate today by Mr. Newlands, of Nevada. Mr. Newlands in a statement accompanying the measure contended that the Standard Oil and tobacco decisions and the recent government report on the steel industry demonstrates the need of "an independent quasi-judicial and administrative tribunal of great character and dignity as far removed from partisan control as are the courts." The plan is to apply only to industrial corporations engaged in interstate trade whose annual receipts exceed $5,000,000.

Mr. Newlands' statement was by way of urging the passage of a bill which he introduced providing for this commission. His measure would require all the industrial corporations having receipts exceeding $5,000,000 to make satisfactory statements as to capitalization, finances and operations, such corporations to be known as "United States registered" companies. It proposes to make lack of such registration an "indication of something wrong."

The measure proposed by Mr. Newlands includes these provisions: The commission may at any time cancel the registration of any registered corporation for improper financial organization, oppressive or unfair methods of competition, acceptance of railroad rebates, refusal to allow access to records, of non-compliance with any judicial decree rendered under the Sherman act. It may in extreme cases, for such offenses, delay the offending corporations from engaging in interstate commerce, and it may require correction of over-capitalization. Its work, according to Mr. Newlands, is not to be complicated with the administration of an entire trust law.

fore Friday, according to the prediction of the official forecaster. At 8 o'clock the temperature registered 84, one point below that of yesterday at the same hour. At 7 o'clock the mercury rose to 86 which is one degree hotter than the record yesterday at the same hour. At 8 o'clock the thermometer stood at 89, the same as at 8 o'clock Tuesday. At 9 o'clock the mercury climbed to 93, two points higher than the same hour yesterday.

GOTHAM STILL SUFFERS.

New York, July 5.—There were many hotter places in the country today than New York, but the accumulated exhaustion of sweltering days continued to mount in the records of deaths and prostrations, even while the mercury went down. At noon Brooklyn had returned five deaths this morning and eight prostrations. Manhattan and the Bronx two deaths and three prostrations. The total for the present hot wave is fifty-eight deaths.

The thermometer at 11 o'clock was 85 and the humidity 66. Yesterday's maximum temperature was 93.

ICE FAMINE THREATENS.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 5.—While not so hot by eight degrees as yesterday, Indianapolis continued today to suffer from the intense heat, which is intensified by a threatening ice famine. The high record for today was 95 degrees at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Local ice dealers say they are unable to supply the demand and that unless the hot wave is broken soon there will be a genuine ice famine. Some of the dealers today increased the price five cents a hundred pounds.

A RECORD BREAKER.

Topeka, Kas., July 5.—This is the hottest July 5th that was ever recorded by the local weather bureau. After an oppressive night during which the temperature ranged from 101 at 7 in the evening to 80 degrees at 6 o'clock in the morning, the mercury steadily rose until at 10 o'clock it had reached the 100 mark.

NO RELIEF FOR SOUTHWEST.

Kansas City, Mo., July 5.—No relief from hot, dry weather in the southwest was predicted by the United States weather forecaster here today. Indications were that this would be the fourth day of extreme heat over the entire section and that yesterday's maximum temperature of 108 would be equalled.

THREE DEATHS AT AKRON.

Akron, O., July 5.—Three deaths that occurred here last night are attributed to the torrid wave that has held Akron in its grip since Saturday. The dead: Elmira Rohrer, Mrs. Mary E. Latham, 46, and Mrs. Mary Strob, 52, all of whom succumbed to exhaustion.

STRICKEN IN PITTSBURG.

Pittsburg, July 5.—Three deaths were reported to the police this forenoon from the heat. Eight prostrations were also reported. Thermometer registered 96 shortly before noon.

There have been twenty-seven deaths and sixty-five prostrations in this city since the hot weather began last Friday.

IN DANVILLE, ILL.

Danville, Ill., July 5.—One person died here this morning and five others were prostrated as a result of the excessive heat. The thermometer stood at 89 at 8 o'clock this morning, nine degrees hotter than at the same hour yesterday morning. The local forecaster predicts 106 before the day is over.

PHILADELPHIA'S BIG LIST.

Philadelphia, July 5.—Thirteen deaths, due to the heat, were reported to the coroner's office today, making thirty-eight fatalities from this cause since the present hot spell began. The temperature at noon today was 88 degrees.

THREE DIE IN MINNEAPOLIS.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 5.—Three persons dead, a large number suffering from injuries in accidents and four prostrations by heat is the record for Fourth of July celebration, a special civic celebration, in progress here this week. The dead:

Emil Samuelson, hit by car.

Joseph Waddick, Rogers, Minn., heat.

August Olson, heat.

Four heat prostrations were reported today, but it is said all will recover.

WOUNDED 47 YEARS AGO.

The Fourth of July is a memorable anniversary to H. B. Woolsey, of this city. Forty-seven years ago, on the Fourth of July, 1864, at Gettysburg, he was struck by a rebel shell, suffering wounds to one eye, partially destroying the sight in it, and also serious injuries to his shoulder. He was carried from the field to the hospital and it was many weeks before he rejoined his New York regiment.

JOHNS GETS HIS SALOON LICENSE

Town Board Signs Document Saying Applicant is All Right.

PETRO HAS A FIGHT

Joseph Johns got his saloon license from the board of county commissioners this afternoon, and there was no fight made against him. None of the witnesses named in an anonymous communication sent to the board were summoned and he produced a paper showing that he stands well with the town board of New Haven.

The communication stated that Johns had been accused of inviting women of ill reputte into his place and selling them drinks and the signers stated that they know this is untrue. They say they have had occasion to watch his method of conducting his business and ask that the license be granted. This is signed by William F. Schoenefeld, August E. Meyers, P. J. Blackwell, Phillip Ehinger and D. E. Callahan.

Petro Has Fight On.

John Petro, who conducts a saloon south of the county infirmary, and who applied to the board on Monday afternoon, has a fight on his hands. Sixty-nine voters asked that his license be refused, and while the remonstrance is not valid, several of the signers, who are men of high standing in the vicinity, appeared to make a fight. The case will probably be hard fought before the board, as some of the people who live in the vicinity want to get rid of the place. It is the same saloon run by the Godfreys several years ago.

Board of Review Here.

Members of the board of review of Noble county, were in Fort Wayne today in conference with the local board and comparing the methods of taxing the banks and corporations. From here they will go to Auburn to see how the work is cared for there.

Granted a Decree.

In the superior court Anna Crites was granted a divorce from William Crites and given the custody of their child.

MAJOR BURKE IN CITY.

Famous Evengelist of Publicity for Buffalo Bill Arrives.

Major John M. Burke, who for a longer period of years than anyone remembers has been chief publicity promoter for Colonel W. F. Cody, arrived in Fort Wayne today. Major Burke, plainsman of the old days and known from one end of the country to the other, is as surely a feature of the Buffalo Bill aggregation as is Col. Cody himself. He merely dropped in today to assure Fort Wayne that there never was such a magnificent show as Buffalo Bill is presenting this year, and that language utterly fails to do justice to its excellence. The date in Fort Wayne is July 8.

Major John M. Burke.

SPECIAL FUNERAL CAR.

Remains of Mrs. Caroline Bookwalter Are Interred Here.

The remains of Mrs. Caroline Bookwalter were brought from Indianapolis to Fort Wayne today for interment, the funeral party arriving in a special interurban car at 12 o'clock and proceeding directly to Lindenwood cemetery. There were about twenty members of the Indianapolis party, including Hon. Charles A. Bookwalter, former mayor of Indianapolis. The car will leave at 6 o'clock tonight on its return to the state capital.

HAS HISTORIC CANE

Will H. Tigar Owns Memento Given His Father Years Ago.

Will H. Tigar, of Crescent avenue, stated to a reporter for The Sentinel today that he still has in his possession the cane made from a log trading house and dwelling owned by Col. G. W. Ewing and presented by him to Mr. Tigar's father, Thomas Tigar, at a Fourth of July celebration in this city in 1860. A sketch of the exercises of that day, taken from Dawson's Fort Wayne Daily Times, was published in The Sentinel yesterday.

OVERCOME BY HEAT.

L. D. Rhodes, a magazine solicitor who rooms at the National hotel, was overcome by heat at the corner of Lafayette and Lewis streets shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon and fell to the sidewalk. He was carried into John Rudolphson's tailor shop in an unconscious condition and Dr. W. O. Gross was summoned. By the time the physician arrived he had regained consciousness and was able to go to his hotel shortly afterward. Mr. Rhodes sustained a bad bruise on the head and one on the knee by his fall to the sidewalk.

RECEIPTS LOWER THAN LAST YEAR

Central League Did Not Draw as Well as It Did in 1910.

WILL HOLD THE CITY

[Special to The Sentinel.]

South Bend, Ind., July 5.—Receipts in the Central league for yesterday were lower than they were the Fourth of July 1910 and although Dr. F. R. Carson, who has just returned from Newark where he installed the old Grand Rapids club, has not had an opportunity to get at the exact figures he estimates that they will not exceed $3,200.

Last year they amounted to $3,578.50 and each club got $447.37 as its share of the gate receipts.

Fort Wayne drew the largest crowds, although they were far below the normal. The receipts for the two games were $895.70, Wheeling had about $775, Terre Haute $666.50 with about $800 from Newark.

The president stated that in his opinion there will be no other changes in the Central league and that it will go through as it is now constituted, although it is not drawing as well as it has in former years. He attributes this to a general falling off of interest in the game and says that it is suffering in common with amusement features of all kinds.

While he did not say just how it will be accomplished he stated that Grand Rapids will be held without the presence of a Central league team there. He is high in the councils of the minor leagues and he knows what he is talking about and probably has already arranged the details or has them pretty well advanced.

CORN TO SAGINAW.

Harry Corns offered his terms to Manager Malachi Kittridge of the Saginaw club, and they were accepted today and he was ordered to report at once. He stated in his application for a place that he wants to play the outfield.

SUN IS BLASTING THE CORN FIELDS

damage gave prices another partial twist upward. Before trading ceased the September option in corn had touched 66 66¾c and in the end was strong at 66¾c, an advance of 1¾c for the day. Oats also showed a further rise on top of the early bulge.

FUROR IN KANSAS CITY.

Kansas City, Mo., July 5.—Amid the wildest scenes enacted on the Kansas City board of trade for years, the corn market gained 3½c to 5c in price in the first ten minutes of trading today. During that time approximately 1,000,000 bushels had been traded in.

WARDROP IS GOING EAST.

Says Some Alteration in the Depot Plans Are Necessary.

Superintendent W. M. Wardrop, of the Pennsylvania company, communicated to the city officials today, through Attorney H. G. Hogan, that he will go to Pittsburg tonight for a consultation with the officers of his company relative to the depot plans.

He says that there are some platform changes to be made on account of building the structure further west that was counted on in the first place and he thinks he will have the approval of his superiors here by the end of the week. This evidently means that Harrison street will be opened.

CITY BREVITIES.

Henry Scheele, of Force street, will leave Friday for an extended visit with his son, August Scheele, at Denver.

Thomas E. Covington, of Maple avenue, has returned from Boston, where he has been on business for the past month.

Architect Ralph M. Snyder let the contract today for the erection of the Edwin J. Fisher residence, on West Berry street, to Charles Wermuth. The new residence will cost about $17,000 and will be one of the finest in the city. Excavation for the foundation was commenced this afternoon.

AFTER THE VANDALS.

Prosecution for Those Who Damage Bowser Playgrounds.

S. F. Bowser today made a report to the police of vandalism at the Bowser public playground at Fisher and Winter streets, where there has been considerable wanton damage, particularly to hydrant connections. Mr. Bowser says the prosecutions will promptly follow a repetition of the act.

"The playground belongs to the children of the neighborhood," said Mr. Bowser today, "and I want them to feel that they have an interest in protecting it. They should promptly report matters of this character to the proper authorities."

A sanitary drinking fountain has been ordered for the grounds, together with some additional apparatus. Mr. Bowser says the ground will be placed in first-class condition in every respect, and it must be kept so.

FORCE THE CITY TO ACT.

The people of Fort Wayne will be getting forward in solution of the garbage problem when they rise en masse indignant and determined and pillory the city for its disgraceful negligence of conditions that are steadily growing worse. The manner in which garbage is not collected has become an outrage. The crematory has been out of commission—though that does not greatly complicate the problem—and the collectors are performing their work in the same old haphazard way. Today there are hundreds of garbage cans that have not been given any attention during the past week of the most torrid weather this city has any record of and there is no reason to suppose there will be improvement. No steps have been taken to improve the situation and the people of Fort Wayne ought not and we believe will not tolerate this persistent and flagrant negligence. An improved and adequate system of dealing with the garbage condition is the one great public improvement that can be had almost as soon as the city resolves it will have it. There is no need to endure conditions a long time while plans are prepared and examined and another long period while they are put into effect. An inquiry into what has been most successfully done in other cities and then adapting it to Fort Wayne will not require a great deal of time nor any sum of money that Fort Wayne is not able at once to pay. Get after the council and the administration and force some action at once.

Mr. Nat Goodwin, celebrated as an actor but better known to fame as a marrying person, has written a book in which he attempts to make clear to the public why it was that he could not get on well with Maxine Elliott, who is listed in the marriage and divorce registers as Mrs. Goodwin No. 3. Why explain? Maxine was simply a part of his scintillant career as the busiest little bridegroom in the whole monogamous world. Without wives to fall out with Mr. Goodwin would be nothing but an actor.

The land needed for public parks and public playgrounds can never be purchased upon terms as advantageous to the city as it can be procured now. Too long delay must mean a higher price for worse sites than the city has it in power to get hold of today. After awhile, when the sentiment for parks and playgrounds has become too strong to be resisted the acquisition of sites will have to be undertaken and the cost will include improvements. The city need not immediately burden itself with more than the expense of getting hold of what it needs, but the economy of getting that while it can be had at a reasonable figure should not be overlooked. This is notably true in respect of public playgrounds. These cannot be located just anywhere that a site is procurable. They must be distributed to the city with direct reference to the districts they are to serve.

The "safe and sane" Fourth in this city was a huge success from the conservation standpoint. The mishaps were astonishingly few and but one or two of those reported were serious. The city escaped serious visitation from fire and the noise was reduced to the minimum. That this sort of an observance of the day meets general approval need hardly be stated. Of course the primary object of a "safe and sane" Fourth is to prevent the loss of life and limb and destruction of property that had become the inevitable accompaniments of the unrestrained use of dangerous explosives and in that respect it is accomplishing its purpose. Some time we shall have progressed so far as to wonder with shame that it was ever in the public mind to countenance the criminal waste of life and property which for many years marked the coming and going of Independence day.

Mr. Taft very pertinently wants to know into what class himself, McKinley, Blaine and other great republicans, living and dead, must be placed if the standpat opponents of reciprocity are right in their hostility and in their doctrine. Perhaps by this time next year some of the anti-reciprocity Brahmins of the republican party will begin to find out. Others, of course; will not learn.

President Taft's visit to Indianapolis has been made the starting point of a movement to solidify the republicans of Indiana behind the administration. It may be general but never can become unanimous so long as Albert Jeremiah Beveridge has remaining a shred of vocal cord to lift a protest or enough thumb and finger to grasp a dissentient pen. Peace, of course: but not at any price.

Ten well-filled garbage cans standing in a row; the garbage man passed along that way and then there were ten. That's a bad article of parody on the old nursery ditty. It hasn't any rhyme at all and if the garbage man had a reason he keeps it to himself. It has, however, the supreme merit of truth, though there probably were more than ten in the row.

A collision of two condemned locomotives was arranged for the delectation of President Taft in Indianapolis. The crash is described as terrific and awe-compelling, but we doubt if the president was greatly impressed. It was nothing to the impact of the executive and a republican layout in the senate that doesn't want reciprocity.

After two days of Indiana weather, which he survived with amazing endurance, Mr. Taft ought to reach Washington more or less immune to the Washington brand and equal to the task of outsweating the senate on the reciprocity bill.

Safer and saner than usual, but neither as safe or as sane as it should be.

CHURCH PICNICS HELD TUESDAY

Fourth of July Events in the Groves by Church Societies.

MANY ATTEND THEM

The three church picnics held Tuesday at the Concordia college campus by the St. Paul and Concordia Lutheran societies and by the Emmaus Lutheran church and the Church of the Precious Blood in groves within the city limits, were all largely attended and each passed in an enjoyable manner. In many respects they were similar in character, picnic events being the amusements of the day and refreshment stands being numerous. At all of them the picnickers enjoyed their basket lunches.

Emmaus Church Picnic.

The picnic given by the congregation of the Emmaus Lutheran church was held in the grove near the Packard Piano company, the children and the church societies, headed by the Packard band, marching there from the church in the forenoon. The band furnished the music at the grove, giving a concert after the dinner hour. The afternoon witnessed the athletic events, which consisted of running races for the boys and girls and various other contests.

On Concordia Campus.

The picnic of the St. Paul and Concordia Lutheran churches for the children on the grounds of the Concordia college was largely attended. The event of the forenoon was a ball game between nines chosen from the Walther leagues of the Concordia and St. Paul congregations, and the St. Paul won by a score of 11 to 6. The flag drill in the afternoon given by 350 scholars was a most interesting one. The other events of the day were games and contests and music. The King's band of Bluffton rendered the instrumental music, heading the procession of children that marched from the churches to the picnic grounds.

Precious Blood Picnic.

One of the most enjoyable picnics of the day was that given by the school societies of the Church of the Precious Blood in the grove near to the church. There was a great crowd of young and old people in attendance and the day was passed most enjoyably. Refreshment stands were scattered over the grounds, at which the ladies of the church presided, and they did a great business. Games and events of various kinds furnished the amusements of the day. William Brossard, Jr., president of the school societies, was the general chairman of the committee in charge of the event.

An invitation is extended to all members and friends of the society to join in making this picnic a grand enjoyable event.

COMRADES TO THE END.

Woodburn, Mass., July 5.—Lying side by side, John P. Hill and Mathew Daly, each fifty years old, and close friends, were found dead under a tree in the Green street woods early today, victims of the heat. Late yesterday afternoon they left their homes to seek shelter from the oppressive heat, and when they did not return at night Daly's son-in-law instituted a search and found them.

SENATOR FLEMING IN DEFENCE OF PROCTOR REGULATION LAW; MRS. FLORENCE RICHARDS IN VIGOROUS ATTACK ON STATUTE

Mr. Fleming Contends New Measure is Giving General Satisfaction, and Reaffirms Stand of Indiana Brewers for Law and Law Enforcement—W. C. T. U. Lecturer Says Measure is Failure and That Abolition of Saloon is Only Real Solution of Liquor Problem.

Hon. T. E. Ellison in Appeal for Equal Suffrage in Municipal Affairs—Gives Statistics of the Women Tax-Payers in Fort Wayne—Other Features of Safe and Sane Fourth of July Celebration at Swinney Park Tuesday—Results in the Athletic Events.

Following Senator S. B. Fleming's defense of the Proctor saloon regulation law before the "safe and sane" Fourth of July celebration at Swinney park Tuesday under the auspices of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, Mrs. Florence Richards, of Leipsic, O., a noted national lecturer for the W. C. T. U., assailed the Indiana statute in vigorous fashion. Her references to Senator Fleming were gracious and kindly, but she handled license legislation without gloves.

Senator Fleming devoted much of his time to an analysis of the Proctor law, asserted his belief that it is the most advanced regulative measure ever enacted and pointed out some features in which he contended largely increased powers of curbing and control had been conferred upon the public. He declared the brewers had demonstrated that they were sincere in their declaration for better regulation of the liquor traffic and the elimination of many evils that had crept into the business. "On behalf of the brewers," said Senator Fleming, "I wish to reaffirm our stand for law and law enforcement."

Calls Him Brave Man.

"When I recall some of the newspaper comments upon the announcement that Senator Fleming, former president of the Indiana Brewers' association and actively engaged in the brewing business, was to speak today at a meeting under the auspices of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, I think him a brave man to come out here and deliver his address," said Mrs. Richards.

"Yet that man represents the voters of Indiana," she continued, "and why should it be regarded as unseemly for him to appear before an audience of his constituents and tell them what he has done for them? It is all right, and I'm glad he came. I'm glad to have heard his exposition of the Proctor law, for I want to learn all I can about my opponents in the fight I am making for the elimination of the saloon."

"But it is too bad to have such a nice-looking man as that lined up with the liquor forces and training with such a crowd," was Mrs. Richards' parting reference to Senator Fleming.

Senator Fleming's Address.

The exercises were held in the pavilion at Swinney park, and the audience, while a large one, was undoubtedly kept down in number by the terrific heat which prevailed. A. G. Burry presided as chairman, and Senator Fleming was greeted by applause as he was presented and came forward to speak on "Advantages of the New Proctor Law." In part Senator Fleming said:

"Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen—Certain newspaper comments and statements of individuals indicate that there are some who view my being asked to speak from this platform today unique, almost beyond compare. Personally I do not share their views, but feel grateful to the ladies of the association, who extended to me the invitation. My being here today in itself is of no great importance, but my being here at all permits of the thought that possibly the complex question which suggests itself to the minds of many, may in the future have consideration from a different standpoint. By that I mean that the two factors may get closer together; that the rigid stand taken by each side may be somewhat mollified, and that the subject itself may be treated from a standpoint of fairness and consideration to both.

"There are many here who disagree with me, and who are dominated by their own belief, who take the firm position that there can be no settlement of the question unless it is settled in accordance with their views. These I do not endeavor to address. They are ruled by the hand of the past, and they fail to see that side of a question which is outside of their own individual ideas. The further we go down the broad pathway of life the more we find that the things which we thought impossible today are solved tomorrow.

"In accepting the invitation to speak today it was clearly understood that the subject assigned to me would be the Proctor regulation law. If you will pardon me a moment I will briefly refer to the history of the liquor legislation of Indiana."

Mr. Fleming here reviewed the history of liquor legislation in Indiana, and continuing said:

"The foregoing brings us down to the session of 1909, in which by a large majority, the house voted for the repeal of the county option, but its repeal failed in the senate by a single vote. The liquor question was a pertinent one during the campaign of 1910. A legislature was elected, which repealed the county option law of 1908, and in addition passed the Proctor regulation bill, of which I am to speak. I assume that my remarks are more or less to be from the brewers' standpoint, therefore desire to read to you an interview which was given to the Indianapolis News, under the date of December 20, 1909, in which the brewers frankly and openly declared their policy and what they would endeavor to do, and from which policy they never deviated.

What Brewers Said.

"The Association of Indiana Brewers, organized last spring, gave out a statement at that time that it was the object and aim of the organization to improve the conditions under which liquor was being sold at retail in the licensed saloon; to advocate an efficient regulation with a view to the elimination of the objectionable features which had crept into the business, and that the association be pledged to the advocacy of such reform legislation on the liquor question as I believed would appeal to all reasonable people.

"We believe the public interests would undoubtedly be best served and its reasonable demands more acceptably met by removing of a license as much as possible from the influence of politics; strengthening the regulations for obtaining a license and placing the retailer in a position where he can be independent of all consideration except the proper conduct of his business in accordance with the law. The legislation we would recommend should embrace the following:

"1. That all license, unless prohibited by law, forfeited by law violations, or if remonstrated against, be made renewable simply by the payment of the license fee, filing the bond and complying with the regulations provided by law.

Commissioners Responsible.

"2. That the board of county commissioners be held morally responsible as to the character and fitness of the applicant and fitness of the location for which a license is asked, by being given discretionary power to determine to whom and for what place a new license should be issued.

"3. That the licenses be limited according to population with the provision that where outstanding licenses exceed that number, all be permitted to continue pending the good behavior of the holder, but that no license be granted to new applicants until the number has fallen below the limit.

"4. That no one be permitted to engage in the retail liquor business who is not in possession of the necessary means or who is not in good enough standing to be able to procure assistance from a source other than a brewer or wholesale liquor dealer.

"5. That there be a reasonable increase in the license fee and it not be made excessive for the reason that the law violator, as a rule, can better afford to pay an unreasonably high license than the man who conducts his business strictly within the law, and dispenses only first-class and wholesomo goods.

"6. That license be terminated only if it is so decided on remonstrance or by vote taken for that purpose pursuant to law; or if the holder is found guilty of making a false sworn statement at the time of making application for an original license or upon the renewal of an outstanding license; or upon violation of any liquor laws.

"On the convening of the legislature last winter the Proctor regulation bill was introduced. Incorporated therein were sections which provided for higher license, limitation of license and regulation.

"As soon as the bill was printed I sent copies of it throughout the state to persons on both sides. Criticisms and comments were asked for, and an invitation extended to those both for and against the bill to be present at a public meeting, which would be held two weeks later. At the public meeting before the senate committee both sides were allowed two hours.

Discussing the Bill.

"In speaking for the bill, at the aforesaid meeting, I made the following statement, which statement can be verified by the public records at Indianapolis: 'This bill is presented in the best of faith. It may not be correct in all its parts, and if it is not it should be amended so that it will be correct. It is to be hoped that it will be used as a nucleus for the enactment of a law which will tend to settle this question for years to come.' Before the committee adjourned more than a dozen amendments were suggested. Several amendments were offered by the members of the Anti-Saloon league and their suggestions were afterward incorporated into the bill. On the floor of the senate more than a score of amendments were offered and many of them were adopted. The same course was followed in the house. That the bill was not railroaded through is evidenced by the fact that it was introduced on the second or third day of the convening of the session and was not passed finally by both branches until within the last five days of the session.

"With your permission I will, as briefly as possible, take up the principal sections of the law, and it is my opinion that to those who wish to be unbiased the law will appeal as being fair, just, and an advanced step in respect to regulating and controlling the sale of intoxicating liquor under a proper licensed plan."

Analyzed Proctor Law.

At this point Senator Fleming took up the Proctor law section by section, dwelling particularly upon those sections which have been most discussed. He cited the provisions which require a year's residence in Indiana in order to hold a liquor license, the privilege of any voter to remonstrate in writing against the granting of a license to any applicant on account of immorality, the raising of the bond from $2,500 to $3,500, the provision that no person can sign more than one bond, the limitation of saloons according to ratio of population. One feature of the law which Senator Fleming said had been persistently misquoted was that which specifies that in a complaint for revocation of license a bond of $200 must be filed with the affidavit, while if the applicant desires to contest the complaint he must file a similar bond. In addition, the Proctor act, said Senator Fleming, re-enacted both the Nicholson and the Moore remonstrance laws, as well as the earlier liquor legislation.

Senator Fleming was still in his analysis of the Proctor law when Chairman Burry whispered to him that the thirty minutes allotted to him had expired. Mr. Fleming said that he had not been advised that there was a time limit, but indicated his willingness to cease speaking at any time. He was told, however, to take some additional time.

"There can be no denial of the statement that the law is clear and specific," said Senator Fleming as he continued: "that it is different from previous laws, and that under its provisions an advanced step is taken, as for the first time the holder of a license is given recognition and consideration.

Sums Up Law Briefly.

"To sum the law up briefly, the restrictions are adequate in respect to the party to whom a license may be granted.

"2. Wide judicial and discretionary powers are given to the officials who must carry out the provisions of the law.

"3. The failure of the proper officials to act gives the right to the individual citizens to file proceedings before the officials, and if said officials are prejudiced or biased and fail or refuse to act then the individual has the right under this law to file his complaint direct in any circuit or superior court of the county.

"4. The number of licenses is limited, the limitation being based on population.

"5. In return for the burdens which the license holder must assume, including the increased license fee, he is given the assurance under the law that as long as he lives up to this, and all other laws of the state, and as long, but not longer, as licenses may be granted in his respective community, his license will be renewed from year to year, and it will not be necessary for him to give consideration to what individuals or what party may or may not be in power. In the question of a sale or transfer of a license the provisions of this act are amply adequate in protecting the equity and interests of the people."

How Law Is Working.

Senator Fleming explained that in order to ascertain how the law is working he had addressed letters to more than forty-five mayors in different parts of the state. Thirty-eight replies were received, of which thirty-four heartily endorsed the law, two were unfavorable and two non-committal. The two unfavorable replies, he said, came from Decatur and Mount Vernon. In conclusion Senator Fleming said:

"Some of the intense partisans who were opposed to the law are today accusing the brewers of being insincere. A careful review of all of the acts of the brewers since they openly announced their policy, more than two years ago, will conclusively show that the attacks which are now being made are absolutely not sustained by the real facts.

"On behalf of the brewers I wish to reaffirm our stand for law and law enforcement."

Sorry for Saloon Keeper.

There was applause as Senator Fleming concluded, but it did not approach the enthusiastic outburst which greeted Mrs. Richards as she came forward when presented by Chairman Burry. Senator Fleming had been given a respectful hearing, but the applause plainly indicated that the sympathies of the audience were not with the Proctor law.

"I am glad to have heard our brother's exposition of this law," said Mrs. Richards in opening, "but I never hear an address of this character but what I am moved by sorrow for the saloon keeper. They say he is here as an apostle of prosperity and to increase the well-being of the community. If he is here to do all his friends claim for him, you ought to pay him a subsidy instead of making him pay a high license! I think they are treating him shamefully!

"We had a similar law proposed in my own state of Ohio, but I thank God it did not pass. Do you suppose that with the initiative and referendum in Indiana, and with the matter left to the people instead of the legislature, the county option law would have been repealed?"

Cries of "No" came from various parts of the audience. "That's right!" exclaimed Mrs. Richards; "talk right out in meeting if you want to: I'm a Methodist and it will not disturb me a particle!"

When Women Get Ballot.

"I am sorry your legislature passed that Proctor bill," continued Mrs. Richards. "If you let us women vote we wouldn't send that kind of men to the legislature. If you let women vote, they will bury the Proctor law not by county option but by statewide prohibition.

"They announced my subject today as 'The Future and What It Promises.' I tell you the future promises the ballot to woman all over this country. And you people in Indiana ought to protest against the adoption of your new constitution unless it contains a provision giving the ballot to women." The speaker referred to the declaration that dabbling with politics twisted woman's finer nature and asserted her belief that she would suffer less injury than in being twisted over the washtub to earn support for her family impoverished by intemperate habits of husband and father.

"They speak of man as the sturdy oak and woman as the clinging vine," continued Mrs. Richards, "and they tell us we ought to continue to be vines. Well, as I go about the cities I see a great many of the sturdy oaks in the gutter and the vines clinging to washboards in consequence. I'd like to see that old oak-and-vine theory exploded!"

Quoted From W. J. Bryan.

"Your county option law was infinitely better than your Proctor law. And I want to assure you that the brother who spoke this afternoon does not represent the views of the entire democratic party on this proposition." Here Mrs. Richards read from a speech of Col. W. J. Bryan in support of county option in Nebraska.

"I am going to live to see every saloon in this great nation of our an outlaw," continued Mrs. Richards. "I know it by the trend of the times. I have recently returned from a visit to Germany, where great progress is being made in settling this great question. Even the German emperor signed the total abstinence pledge two years ago. If you think the so-called German Alliance represents true German sentiment of today you are very much mistaken. The time is coming when you are going to be just as much ashamed that your ever tolerated the saloon in this country as we are that we ever tolerated slavery here."

Mrs. Richards devoted some time to puncturing some of the arguments advanced by the liquor interests and told of her debate last year with Mayor Dahlman, of Omaha. "If it is true that more liquor is sold in prohibition territory than in wet territory, then the brother who spoke here this afternoon was most magnanimous," said Mrs. Richards. "If the first contention be true, all the liquor interests ought to be for prohibition."

She declared that the Proctor law controlled the liquor traffic precisely as a joint of stovepipe stopped up a hole in a woodshed to make the cat a prisoner. Regarding the charge that prohibition makes hypocrites, Mrs. Richards said: "It doesn't; it merely reveals those who were already there—ready made." As to blind tigers the speaker asserted that if her dead son were living, she would infinitely rather have him exposed to the danger of attack by a blind tiger than from a tiger with good eyesight.

Cause of Blind Tigers.

"It has been my observation all over the United States," continued Mrs. Richards, "that you never have blind tigers unless you have blind officers, and you will find no blind officers unless you have a lot of blind voters first."

The speaker touched somewhat upon violations of the law under the new Proctor statute and said she had been told that the Fort Wayne saloons were all open on a recent national holiday. "But they're closed today," cried a voice from the audience. "That's good," was Mrs. Richards' rejoinder.

Her peroration was an appeal for a lofty conception of patriotism and a wiping out of the saloon entirely from American territory.

Dr. B. Von Sweringen, who was to have spoken on "Advantages of a Sane Fourth," was delayed in reaching the park until the program was well under way, and as the program was a lengthy one, he asked to be excused from delivering his address. The first speaker of the afternoon was Hon. T. E. Ellison, who delivered a powerful plea for equal suffrage in municipal affairs.

Mr. Ellison's Address.

Mr. Ellison said:

Ladies and Gentlemen: A year ago today I eulogized the passing of the old, when, at our neighboring village, Roanoke, we sang peans to the Indian chief, Little Turtle, and his daughter, Kilsoquah, in celebrating with her the centennial of her birth.

Today I am asked to give heed and draw attention to that coming day, which shall bring the emancipation of woman, so far as the control of municipal affairs is concerned.

I believe, I may presume, that though I am not a preacher, I may found my address upon that passage of the Bible taken from Genesis, where it is declared that God created man in his own image, in the image of God, he created him; male and female created he them; which truth was incorporated in our immortal Declaration of Independence, when it declared that all men are created equal, and endowed with certain inalienable rights, among which are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, and that governments are instituted among men deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.

I believe it impossible to find any declaration made by God or man that more certainly sets forth the principle upon which I shall try to base my appeal, so that you will give more thought to the subject of equal suffrage in municipal affairs in the future than you have been wont to do in the past. I feel sure you will; it's in the air; there is no subject of general import that the public is giving more attention to than that which relates to equal suffrage.

Felt All Over the World.

The most progressive governments of this day all over the world are seriously considering it. Those countries, which have admitted women to participation in public affairs, either fully, as have Belgium, Norway, Switzerland in Europe, Australia and New Zealand in the far east, as well as Wyoming, Utah, Colorado, Idaho and Washington in our own country, and those nations who have conferred municipal suffrage upon women as in England, Canada, California and several of our states, are all telling the rest of the world thath they find it helpful in bringing about better government, that it is helping to answer the question whether it is right and fair to tax and take from woman so large part of the money which supports and runs the government, and yet give her no thought when the policy as to how, when and where it shall be expended is fixed.

I have read in a general way for years past not a little on this subject, but the question as to the actual workings out of the law has always concerned such distant communities that I have not given it that attention I would had the proposition been seriously presented in our locality. I must admit that while I was in a state of mind that I might easily have been converted to woman suffrage, yet I did not know until I began some months ago to gather from here and there the facts that would enable me to talk to you today of the great momentum the movement has attained.

Commission Form of Government.

As you know, I have been an earnest advocate of the commission form of government for our city. I did this because I believe it to be a more democratic form of government than we now have; that it would give the humblest of our citizens the same right and duty in the management of the city's affairs and the choosing of its officials, as the wealthiest and most powerful. It is a form of government that gives great powers and exacts strict accountability. It is a form of government to which all selfish interests and the political boss are much opposed. It is a form of government as was said by Woodrow Wilson last week, that eventually will be adopted by all cities. He adds:

"The contests in New Jersey have shown that representative men of both of the old parties are opposed to the plan, but in the end there will be victory for the people. The thought of the country is very sober; it is very thoroughgoing. The facts as to our industrial life are becoming plainer and plainer from day to day; the responsibilities of life are being disclosed more and more clearly, and it is becoming very obvious that the people are not thinking like children, but like men; who are not afraid of their own thinking, and are ready to act when they see what is to be done. Those who fear are those who do not understand, and only those are in danger who will not heartily and honestly and disinterestedly co-operate."

Affairs Have Become Complex.

The avenues of opportunity and advancement have marvelously increased during the period in which our people have changed from one of a few simple lines of work to those of complex, diversified and seemingly antagonistic natures. We must so conduct the affairs of this nation, and especially of our city, so as to give to every man and woman and child a fair return for labor honorably and faithfully performed, so that every human being can have an equal opportunity to enjoy the providence of God and the unalienable rights which were so gloriously declared at Philadelphia 135 years ago.

Government has much to do with this and as was said by Senator Owen of Oklahoma, in the United States senate a few days ago, in arguing, that the commission form of government is an agency for the restoration of integrity and efficiency in municipal affairs, "The only way that this equality of government can be established is through genuine, real self-government of the people, by the people and for the people." Under such government special privileges will not be granted to the few at the expense of the many; nor will the few be given an inordinate advantage for their benent at the cost of the many.

Democratic Government.

In my enthusiasm and strong belief in commission form of government, I may have overlooked to some extent the fundamental definition of democracy, which is nothing more or less than that all shall know all and the majority shall consent to all that is done. The contest that brought about the war of the revolution and the Declaration of Independence was not one of property or financial prosperity. It was a contest for the idea that every person who contributes toward the support of the government is entitled to representation in that government, and a voice as to its policies. In thinking along these broad lines I could not help but to have had it brought to my attention that right here at home, in Indiana—yes, in Fort Wayne—we really had but little true democracy.

However, I did not realize to what extent or how many of our people were being denied participation in our government until I went to the auditor's office some time ago to count the number of women who paid taxes in the city of Fort Wayne. I thought previously that women might constitute from 15 to 20 per cent. of our taxpayers, and you may judge of my astonishment when I relate how I was enlightened.

Women as Taxpayers.

There are five large duplicates in our auditor's office, which contain the names of all the taxpayers and the property on which they pay taxes in this city. I thought I would run through one of them and count the number of women who paid taxes and the amount they paid, and then multiply it by five, and thus approximate the number and the per cent. they paid. Getting to the bottom of the tenth page of the one book, that probably contains 300 pages, I began to realize that I had been densely ignorant on this subject. I found that out of the 238 propositions I had examined, four were taxed to corporations, leaving 234 that were paid upon by individuals, and of these 234, women had paid all or a part of the taxes on 121. I found then that if I counted the names of all the women who paid taxes in Fort Wayne that I would not, for want of time, be able to make this speech on the Fourth of July. So I went into consultation with the treasurer, the auditor and their chief clerks and we estimated that out of 20,000 taxpayers in Fort Wayne, not less than 8,000 are women.

Today I shall appeal to those 8,000 women and the fair-minded men of the remaining 12,000 taxpayers to re-read their Bibles and the Declaration of Independence with the purpose of honestly deriding what is best for all of us.

Fort Wayne Women and the Ballot.

No man, be he ever so villainous or ever so much of a lawbreaker, but wants his family guarded and protected in their lives, health and happiness, and when they realize, as they must, that God in his infinite wisdom, has made man, both male and female, in his image and likeness, they will vote to give power to those justly entitled to it.

Suppose that we should grant the 8,000 women who pay taxes in the city of Fort Wayne the right to vote upon the question of municipal government, would there be any change? Take this question home and answer it at your leisure.

It is not necessary for us to give ourselves over to vain imaginings as to what might happen if we had municipal equal suffrage. We have only to go to those countries and cities where equal suffrage has been granted to very definitely ascertain what the 8,000 additional voters in Fort Wayne would do. I can in no better way answer the question than to give you the substance of a few of the things careful examination by experts prove to have happened in those countries.

New Zealand as an Instance.

It is said that in New Zealand, the freest government on the face of the earth, that there is neither privilege nor pauperism. Would that not be a glorious thing for Fort Wayne? How much of her earnings are given toward the support of those who through indifference, debaucheries and dissipations of one kind and another have to be cared for? Would not many a pocket be full and many a store house running over if the money that we now pay and have paid to special interests were in the pockets and bank accounts of those who are and were really entitled to the same?

It is conceded in all places and states where equal suffrage prevails that immoral men seldom become candidates for office, because of the fear that the woman vote would defeat such a candidate. Why is this? Because women are more likely to split their ticket than men. They are not so bound to party name and emblem as men are.

Increases Power of Woman Teacher.

The right to vote has increased the power of the woman teacher in the public schools to impress upon their pupils the best there is in life. The far-reaching effects of this condition will only have to be thought about for a moment to realize that the greatest difficulty that the woman teacher in our city schools has to overcome is that the deference due to her position is often lacking, to the great detriment of the scholar. If we could add to the wisdom and teaching that is being imparted by the more than 200 women teachers in our public schools that kernel of acquiescence which comes from a recognition of authority, it would have so wonderful an effect upon the lives of the coming generations that it would be impossible to measure it.

Our papers at the present time are full of the garbage question. The men in our city government have no appreciation of the difficulties that the housewife has to prevent contamination and contagion from following in the wake of that which the city fails to gather, nor she of those who gather and destroy it; hence dissatisfaction. Would not joint authority better the situation?

There is not a city in which women vote but what sanitary measures, clean milk and smoking chimneys have received more attention than is being given them in Fort Wayne.

They have purified the ballot, and I have yet to see the man in Fort Wayne who will not admit that even a little effort would meet with great returns along those lines.

Women Appreciate the Ballot.

Absolute statistics show that a greater proportion of women vote than of men who are entitled to do so; that a larger percentage of women who own property vote than of those who do not; that a larger per cent. of those who own property vote than those who are tenants; that a larger per cent. of tenants vote than those who are lodgers. And last and of more importance, a larger per cent. of married women vote than single women. This is because of the interest they take in public affairs; their clubs, societies, churches and other associations, which bring them together and at which meetings they take up public questions.

The greatest evil there is in American politics today is the want of interest of the voters. There is very little danger of the people's rights being taken away if the people are informed of the situation and vote intelligently. Very little stealing is done when the owner of the property is awake; thievery is practiced when the owner is asleep or off his guard; and so also is the invasions of selfish interests and the despoiling that is accomplished by the political boss.

Middle Class Women Vote.

It is the middle class woman who votes, neither the plutocrat nor the pauper, and if there be salvation for our nation, in any class of our people, it lies with the middle class.

It is true that women as legislators have been a disappointment. It is said that this is so because they do not attend caucuses; that they do not attend caucuses because they are not asked, and the reason why they are not asked is because they will not keep secret the skullduggery by which many nefarious schemes are carried into execution.

The trade and labor union people of Colorado have time and time again passed resolutions favoring equal suffrage; while it is said to have had little effect upon wages up to the present time, the time for the experiment has been rather too short to show what it will eventually bring.

A notable incident of the benefits from equal suffrage came at one of the late elections in Colorado, when bosses in both parties had turned a deaf ear to those who desired a re election of Judge Lindsey to the juvenile court bench. Then it was that the women prevailed upon him to run as an independent candidate, and his election followed by a large majority. The effect of the result that followed, many claim, will well pay for all the effort that was put forth to get equal suffrage in that state.

The Ballot Makes Her Strong.

When the woman in those localities that have equal suffrage make a demand for anything, for which she may be supposed to have the silent backing of her sex, she has less difficulty in obtaining her wish than her sisters of non-suffrage states; and while woman suffrage may not have satisfied some of the radicals in all that they have desired, yet in the main there can be no doubt but what it has had a good effect upon woman herself and upon the municipalities in which she lives.

Every campaign arouses a greater interest and a greater participation upon the part of women who heretofore have not voted. And while some things have happened that are not to the credit of women, yet in the main it has increased her business and political honor and the effect upon municipal as well as national politics has been good rather than bad.

May the day soon come when the indifference of officials and of the people who vote will pass away and the lovers of the home-improving and social betterment of mankind will ask our wives, mothers and sisters to add their influence, wisdom and sagacity to that not possessed by our present electorate.

OTHER EVENTS OF THE DAY.

The City Packard band furnished music during the entire day at the park, and one of the pretty features of the celebration was a parade of Sunday school pupils at 11 o'clock. The Sunday school of the Baptist Brethren church at Smith and Greene streets was awarded a handsome silk flag for having the largest percentage of its membership in line, and another flag was awarded as second honor to the Sunday school of Bethel Evangelical church.

In the athletic events which closed the day's program the results were as follows:

Little girls' race—First, Esther Luelleman; second, Edna Schafer.

Little boys' race—First, Charles Moench; second, Walker McCurdy.

Large boys' race—First, Roy Burton; second, Ivan Welty.

SOCIETY

The Country club is one of the coolest spots that society is seeking these days and yesterday there were over seventy members and guests present at dinner and about fifty people who remained for the evening. Music was provided for dancing, but that exercise was not indulged in to any extent that could be called strenuous. The customary Wednesday bridge games interested players for a number of tables this afternoon.

PRETTY FROCK FOR GIRLS.

By MRS. JANE FORD.

821

SIZES 4 TO 12 YEARS.

When selecting a dress for a young girl, comfort should be considered before anything, and next practicability. To get these essential attributes it is not at all necessary to sacrifice style, for modistes are showing any number of pretty models that are practical in every sense of the word, yet have a style that is sure to please the most fastidious miss. The little frock shown in the drawing is one of the newest skirt and waist models, and is copied from a French importation. The waist and sleeves are in one, with small tucks at the back and front, just below the square yoke. The skirt is comfortably full, and joins the waist by means of a band of trimming material. It is at once apparent how easy this dress is to develop, and it is economical as well, because for a girl eight years of age it requires only three yards of goods twenty-seven inches wide. This model is of such a character that it may be carried out in almost any material, according to the purpose for which it is to be used.

HOW TO CHOOSE A HUSBAND

A woman who has eaten of the bitter fruit of experience warns her sex against handsome or rich men as husbands. Girls everywhere, and women who have been living under the delusion that a man must be either rich or handsome to be in the list of eligibles, have been looking about them to discover just what called forth such a startling assertion. As a result, many of them have come to the conclusion that the woman who speaks from the point of actual experience is right, and that money and regularity of feature count very little in the scale of happiness.

In the first place, egotism assumes a great many guises in domestic life. The less it is nurtured the smoother are the paths of hymenal happiness. Two things especially instrumental in bringing out the vanity in man are the assurance of personal attractiveness and a full pocketbook. Of course there are exceptions to this rule, but in the majority of cases it is a practiced rule, as a great number of wives subjected to its workings will testify.

The handsome man is often given to overrating his own powers of attraction. He likes to know that his features are being noticed and appreciated, to know he holds a certain sway over the feminine mind that draws all eyes irresistably his way. Such a casual remark as "Isn't he a handsome man?" is more grateful to his ears than the clink of gold against gold, and his habits and mannerisms are sure to fairly shout self.

For a man with an inflated bank account there are a thousand and one attractions drawing him away from home. All doors are open to him, all roads lead to easy pleasures and convivial companionship. If he is in the least inclined to drift his home is in danger of becoming merely an incident in the day's busy round, his wife only one of the many attractive women he meets during the twenty-four hours of hurried work and play. The man of slender or even comfortable means has but one haven of rest and recreation—his home, and his feet turn toward it as invariably as the sun shines in the west.

How many girls have found out to their sorrow the blind love offered to a handsome man satiated with vanity was a delusion and a snare, and how gladly would they exchange it for the honest love of some plain but real man whose attractiveness would become a steady quantity, unshaken and unshakeable? How many women have learned too late that money is not the golden key unlocking the door of love's consummation! With the woman of experience who voices her thoughts for the enlightenment of her sisters, these victims of vanity and bank notes declare it is better to be loved much by a plain man of slender means than to be petted, ignored and then forgotten by a man of great personal or material attractions.

FASHION HINTS FROM PARIS.

Liberty satin gown, with voile de soie tunic embroidered with silk flowers and trimmed with fringe.—Maison Barrois.

FASHION HINTS.

The practical as well as pretty rajah and pongee frocks of last summer have given way almost entirely to foulard, messaline, crepe and the more clinging silks. Even the necessary summer suit has hearkened to the cry for supple materials, and in place of the rajah coat and skirt we have glistening suits of satin ranging all the way from heavy duchesse to the flimsiest of dull finished crepes.

One-piece frocks are delightfully simple both in line and adornment. Plain foundations with all manner of charming child collars and cuffs in plaids, dots and stripes that harmonize or contrast with the plain materials are used extensively. Thus one sees a plain satin foulard empire gown, straight from shoulder to hem, with a heavy cord wound around and knotted at the side to give the waist line. A collar of silk in Scotch plaid effect, deeply pointed at the back, and flat turnback cuffs edging peasant sleeves are the only adornment. Such a frock is not only striking, but it is beautifully youthful, a point never overlooked by the woman wise in the ways of her kind.

Tans and ecrus seem to have taken a prominent position on the counters given over to summer materials. They are extremely becoming to certain types of women who cannot wear white advantageously, and there is a richness about them that catches the artistic eye. Tan and ecru are never harsh. They blend softly with the more daring shades, which, when combined with white, are apt to look blatant, even loud. An inexpensive white lace dipped into coffee to color ecru will often double its value so far as looks are concerned, and butter colored nets and allovers will succeed where white would look cheap and obvious.

RULES OF ETIQUETTE.

Every bridesmaid, if her home is in the city, is socially obligated to call on the mother of the bride a week or ten days after the date of her daughter's marriage, and to call upon the bride as soon as she is settled in her husband's home.

Seat coupons for a theater box are given to the usher at the door. He precedes the women of the party to the box, the gentlemen following.

Wraps are removed by all members of a party in the small ante-room of a box at the theater. The ladies enter the box first, selecting the front seats.

A man who leaves his seat more than once during a performance should not return to it again.

Deserting the lady he has asked to accompany him to the theater, or dragging himself across the gowns and feet of ladies in the same row, only to return when the curtain rises on the next act, is not only a marked social error, but is classed as conduct unbecoming a gentleman.

The father of the bride may provide linen for her new home, though it is no longer considered a duty, but a matter of choice.

Cresto 5c. Big, all quality.

FINDS ADVENTURE IN THE AIR.

Girl Works Behind Counter by Day and Is an Aviator in the Evenings.

(St. Louis Times.)

Selling finery by day in a woman's furnishing shop and whirring through the air in her aeroplane in the evenings is the double life of Miss Enid Hibbard, saleswoman-aerone. And she engages in each for adventure. She says she has just as much fun out of being a saleswoman as out of her aeroplaning. Clad in a mannish suit and manipulating an aeroplane in kinloch park with daring and coolness has won Miss Hibbard enthusiastic plaudits from aviation experts.

With all her youth, Miss Hibbard has lived an eventful life. The daughter of a well-to-do Colorado business man, she is an expert chauffeur and an actress. Accomplished and pretty, Miss Hibbard came to St. Louis from New York with her friend, Miss Emily Keene, and through Miss Keene's brother, Young Wakely Keene, a student at Benoist's field, became interested in aviation to such an extent that she determined to make that her life profession.

Miss Hibbard during the day conceals the adventurous side of her career as effectually as did Dr. Jekyll his Mr. Hyde career, which blossomed with the coming of twilight. She enters into a discussion of the styles with all enthusiasm and her appearance is harmonious with it. Women have gazed with envy at the lines of her figure and the style of her clothes. That head of brown hair that during the day droops down to the nape of her neck in a mass of coils and curls, in the evening is transfixed securely with long business-like hairpins.

The high-waisted, imported, gray-blue silk gown which scarce allows a step wider than a hobble, is changed for a severely tailored white duck suit with a wide plaited skirt and the tiny French slippers for stout boots.

To Miss Hibbard aeroplaning is not fraught with more danger than running a motor car. She will embark on her professional career as an aeroplanist in a few months. Already she has received offers by the score, and one she is thinking favorably of holds out to her a contract for one flight daily, price per flight, $750. Not bad is it? Talk about a capitalist having a nosay place. He has to clip his bond coupons, anyway, to get money. For flying two minutes in a straight flight she will receive a salary larger than a king's in comparison.

"I will continue my work during the day until I complete my arrangements for aeroplane engagements," said Miss Hibbard. "I enjoy it, and I want to continue at it as long as I have the time, for I shall always look back on this experience pleasantly."

THE CARE OF THE HAIR IN SUMMER.

Air and sunshine in large doses is the best tonic for the hair on bright summer days. Nothing equals this remedy offered by nature for promoting the growth and thickness of the hair and no bottled magic from the chemist can make it so glossy and fine as a steady application of sunshine.

The fact that one is living in an apartment or a flat without grounds or veranda need not prevent the use of this plentiful and economical tonic. If you are possessed of an earnest desire to improve the condition of the hair, open the windows wide, raise the blind and sit in the direct rays of the sun for at least a half hour. Separate the hair by catching it firmly at the ends and shaking it vigorously. Let the warmth and air filter through every strand and smooth with a coarse comb at intervals. You will be surprised at the warm color and sun glints that creep into the hair and are caught in its meshes. After a brisk brushing it will glisten like satin and will be fairly crackling with life. Repeat this operation every day for a week and the improvement will be so marked that you will not want to cease trying.

For the girl who cannot find time during the day for this treatment there is the cool night breeze, second only to sunshine in its marvelous restorative power. She should stand in the open air or near a window where the wind can circulate freely through her hair while she combs or brushes it slowly. This is an excellent remedy for tired nerves or headache and is refreshing to the entire body. It induces sleep, relieving the feeling of pressure on the eyes and head. The effort will be more than repaid in the morning when the hair is soft and shining.

In hot weather the head perspires easily, requiring constant attention to keep the hair from looking damp and stringy. Air and sunshine rectify this condition, imparting a fresh, clean odor to the hair and a feeling of vigor to the scalp.

RECIPES.

Veal Souffle.

Chop fine sufficient cold veal to measure one pint. Melt and mix together over the fire two tablespoonful lard; add one teaspoonful of salt, a half teaspoonful of white pepper and gradually one cupful of milk. When smoothly thickened simmer for a moment, add the veal, stir well and set aside for ten minutes. Stir in lightly one tablespoonful of chopped parsley and the stiffly whipped whites of four eggs. Turn into a buttered baking dish and bake in a moderate oven for fifteen minutes.

Baked Egg Plant.

To bake egg plant drop a good sized one into boiling water for ten minutes, then drain. Halve and from each piece scoop out the center, leaving a shell almost an inch thick. Chop the portion removed season well with salt, pepper, onion juice and (if liked) chopped green pepper; add an equal amount of soft bread crumbs and moisten well with melted butter. Heap this in the shells and bake in a moderate oven for three-quarters of an hour.

TAFT STANDS UP FOR RECIPROCITY

Indianapolis Speech is a Plea to Republicans to Uphold Bill.

BULLET HITS NEAR

Indianapolis, July 5.—President Taft spent a busy day in Indianapolis yesterday despite the torrid temperature. When he left for Washington last night he had reviewed a sane Fourth parade and awarded prizes, spoken on "Reciprocity" at the Marion club banquet, held an informal reception, witnessed a head-on collision of locomotives at the state fair grounds as the guest of the Railway Trainmen, and narrowly escaped being struck by a bullet which wounded a woman near him in the reviewing stand. He had spent the night at the residence of former Vice President Fairbanks.

Bullet Hits Woman Near Him.

Just before the president took his seat in the reviewing stand in front of the Soldiers' monument, what is believed by the police to have been a spent bullet struck Mrs. Harry D. Tutewiler, who was near him, in the thigh. It came from a revolver. Mrs. Tutewiler left her seat for a half hour, had the wound dressed, and returned in time to witness the parade. The president was not told about the affair, but the police started on a hunt for the person who fired the shot.

Detectives were sent to the top of the monument as soon as the shooting was reported, but a search of the persons there and among the crowds in the neighboring buildings failed to give any clew. No one appeared to have heard any shot fired.

Speaks in Advocacy of Reciprocity.

The president devoted his banquet speech largely to pointing out how reciprocity with Canada meant the carrying out of the republican party's platform pledge.

The president made his answer to the argument of other republicans that reciprocity as he has proposed it is not good republican doctrine, but democratic doctrine.

He showed that reciprocity as presented to congress by him differed, if at all, only slightly from reciprocity as advocated by James G. Blaine and the late President McKinley.

He declared that the contention of the opponents of his reciprocity plan that the doctrine is unrepublican because it affects articles that are competitive, and not merely non-competitive, was not sound.

Defines Party Doctrine.

"The sound republican doctrine," said the president, "has become the imposition of duties only where the conditions are naturally unequal, and where duties are necessary in order to enable our manufacturers and other producers to meet on a level the competition of foreign producers. The Canadian reciprocity agreement which has been made, squares exactly with this doctrine."

Replying to the contention that reciprocity would be put into effect wholly at the expense of the farmer and in the interest of the wage earner of the large cities, Mr. Taft declared that in his judgment "the reciprocity agreement will not greatly reduce the cost of living, if at all."

Speech of President.

The president said in part:

"I have had occasion elsewhere to say that the three subjects in which I have recently been greatly interested are not party issues. Certainly this is true of universal arbitration and of the plan of the monetary commission for the reform of our currency and banking systems.

"With respect to reciprocity, however, I find that there is a disposition by some republicans to dispute the proposition that republicans can consistently support the adoption of the present agreement made for this purpose with the Canadian government.

"It is said that this kind of reciprocity is not republican reciprocity. It is said that this reciprocity covers competitive products of each country, and that the reciprocity of former republican leaders was intended to include only a lowering or abolition of duties on products of other countries which did not compete with products of this country.

"The republican party in its last national platform declared in favor of tariff duties which would measure only the difference in the cost of production of articles here and of articles abroad. The Canadian reciprocity agreement which has been made squares exactly with this doctrine.

Cites Blaine Proposal.

"The contention that reciprocity was never advocated by republican leaders so as to include competing products is refuted by the record of history. Mr. Blaine, who is regarded as the father of reciprocity, attempted to obtain an amendment to one of the tariff laws in which the subjects for reciprocity mentioned in the amendment were almost all of them articles in which the foreign countries would compete with us in our own market.

"More than this, McKinley, who was the second leader as to reciprocity, had negotiated a number of reciprocity treaties in all of which the duties were reduced or abolished on a number of products which would compete in our markets with those of our own production.

"It is said that this Canadian reciprocity agreement is made wholly at the expense of the farmers.

"The truth is that when the complaint made on behalf of the farmer is analyzed it will be found to be limited to an argument that by the admission of free wheat into the United States the price of wheat will be reduced 10 cents a bushel.

"The answer to the argument is that this cannot be, for the reason that the price of wheat in the United States and in Canada is ultimately fixed by the price of wheat in the world, and that the world's price is adjusted and made at Liverpool by the relation of the supply of the exported wheat to the demand for it by countries which do not raise enough to supply their people."

VELVETY COMPLEXION

New and Delightful Liquid Lotion That Makes Skin Soft and Clear.

Liquid preparations are fast taking the place of face powder as even the most expensive powders have a tendency to clog the pores of the skin, causing blackheads and a sallow, muddy complexion.

The latest and best liquid lotion is Beauty Blush, which makes the skin soft, clear and velvety and removes all complexion blemishes, completely taking away the heated and greasy appearance of the skin, that comes after automobiling, dancing, boating, tennis-playing and other exercise.

Beauty Blush is much nicer to apply than dry powders and does not rub off easily. It is inexpensive. Meyer Bros. Co. are selling it for 50c, and it should be used by every one who wants that clear and rosy complexion which so greatly enhances womanly beauty. Money back of Beauty Blush does not give perfect satisfaction.

DESTROYERS BADLY DAMAGED.

Tremendous Vibration Opens Seams in British War Craft.

London, July 5.—Seven of Great Britain's newest ocean-going torpedo boat destroyers have been put out of action by overstraining their hulls while under full speed trials in the heavy sea of the English channel. The destroyers Acorn, Alarm, Rifleman, Nemesis, Lyra, Nymphe and Larne reached Portland in such a leaky condition that all available drivers were requisitioned to close the gaps in their seams pending docking.

The trouble was the result of the tremendous vibration of the powerful engines driving the little warships at a speed of twenty-eight knots through the water. The rivets of the plates were started in all directions, opening gaps which caused the water to pour into the oil bunkers and rendering the fuel useless.

SLEEPY MERRYMAKERS JOLTED.

NEW YORK, July 5.—A trainload of tired holiday merrymakers returning from Rockaway early today were tossed into heaps at the front ends of the cars when the engineer applied his brakes too late and bumped into the Long Island City bulkheads at the rate of ten miles an hour. When the heaps were untangled it was found that fourteen had been hurt, four of them seriously.

Seven picnics flourished—at Hanna's grove, Concordia college, DeWald's grove; the fair grounds, Riedmiller's grove, the Tivoli garden and the Apple Orchard. The saloons were open wider Sunday than today, and there were fights at both the fair grounds and the Apple Orchard.

WACKER'S RECORD SHOT TO PIECES

Left Hander Loses First Game on the Local Ball Yard.

SPLIT THE GAMES

Charles Wacker, alias "Demon Jimmy," met old hollow-eyed defeat for the first time on the local ball yard when he was beaten in the morning tussle of the double bill between the Varnell and the Redelle athletes. He has been pitching here since 1908 with the expection of a year in the American association and in that time he had never been beaten until the Casey troupe went after him right off the reel in the morning encounter and trimmed him badly.

G. Washington Harden was the pick for the first fray of the glorious Fourth and he acquitted himself with great credit. The hot weather did not seem to bother him and he got stronger as he went along and finished in good shape. Wacker allowed only one more hit than his opponent, but the safe drives were clustered in a couple of innings.

Jack Onslow got a lay-off and Bill Bailey made his first local appearance of the season and Bill's popularity was attested when he was applauded as he strode to the plate as proudly as if he were a citizen of the United States instead of McDonald, Pa.

He started a rally with two out in the second that netted four runs. In the third he sent one over by the accidental route. In an attempt to get out of the way of a pitched ball it hit his bat as he fell and rolled down third base line, giving Bill Clancy a chance to register. Hardin had his most serious trouble in the third inning when Knoll hit over the right field fence with two men on bases and sending in enough runs to get within one of the Fort Wayne count.

In the fifth inning Manager James Casey lost Knoll's high fly in the sun and ran away from it and it went for a hit. He was playing with the sun in front of him instead of at his back, and reversed conditions got him. There were a few uncomplimentary things said about him but when he went to bat in the next inning he was applauded.

Ed Pfeffer went to the mound in the matinee and Kirkpatrick and Benson each picked off a single to right, Spencer hit to left for two bases, Knoll drew a pass, DeHaven hit a pop fly that fell safely back of first, Cameron hit to right, Dobard struck out, Winchell hit a fly that went to the catcher, Kirkpatrick, up for the second time, hit to the flag pole for a home run and Benson went out to Young.

He didn't get a chance to sit down on the bench and the manager pulled him off and chased him to the clubhouse. Charlie Alberts tried the rescue and fell down badly on the job and after he had been hit five times and allowed three runs in the fourth he was yanked in favor of Whittaker, who pitched good ball for the remainder of the game, but Dayton had a lead of a dozen runs and he was put in just to shorten the game.

Frank Winchell got by in good shape until the ninth inning, when he forced over two runs because he could not locate the plate, and another was scored on Bill Bailey's sacrifice fly on which Knoll made one of the most sensational catches that has ever been pulled off here. He raced to the top of the right field bank and fell as he got the ball but managed to hang on to it.

The intense heat kept down the attendance which was not more than 1,000 for the two games. A feature of the morning game was a catch by DeHaven, who raced over the left foul line and picked off a high fly that retired Eddie Justice.

Keener raced in from left for Spencer's high fly in the morning game and yelled for it. Justice thought he had it and stopped and the ball fell safely between them. Spencer had a great record at bat as he was up eight times and got seven hits. All of the players were tired in the afternoon game and it dragged along for nearly two and a half hours.

SOMERLOTT IS ON TRIAL.

May Be Made Manager to Replace Eddie Wheeler.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 5.—Owner L. D. Smith, of the Terre Haute club, says that he has made no appointment as manager up to this time, but he is watching the work of Long John Somerlott, and if he shows any ability as a manager he will be given the place resigned by Eddie Wheeler.

He has won four in the six games played since he took the leadership and has always been popular with the local patrons of the game. Pitcher Kleber has returned to his home at Erie, Pa., as he and Owner Smith could not agree on terms.

HEAT KEEP DOWN THE ATTENDANCE

All Scheduled Games Played for First Time in Many Years.

THE CENTRAL SCORES

For the first time in many years all of the games scheduled in the Central league for the Fourth of July were played according to the book, but the intense heat that prevailed all over the circuit affected the attendance as much as the rain of previous years and the eight games were played to comparatively small crowds.

This is bad for the league as all the receipts of yesterday were divided among the eight clubs equally and it was hoped that the coffers of the losing organizations might be helped a bit.

There was a split of the games in every town except Wheeling where Zanesville won the morning game and tied the one in the afternoon. At Newark the scores were exactly the same in both games, each club winning one. Terre Haute and Evansville halved the two and in the afternoon Bates put the ball over the center field fence for the first time in ten years. The scores:

TRACK RECORD BROKEN.

Otis Crandall was knocked unconscious by a batted ball in the morning game at Philadelphia. By taking two games from New York Connie Mack's Athletics went into the lead in the American league.

Philadelphia Nationals trimmed the Giants and took the top of the column in the National league.

WHEELER IS AT SOUTH BEND.

Is Playing First Base for Benders in Place of Schmick.

South Bend, Ind., July 5.—Eddie Wheeler, manager of the South Bend team of last season, and who joined the champs at Newark yesterday, returned with the club today and will play first base while Schmick is recovering from an injury to one of his ankles. He has been spoken of as a possibility for the management at Newark.

HAS NEW SHORTSTOP.

Wheeling Team Picks Up New Man to Try In Infield.

When the Wheeling team arrived today it had picked up one Quinlan, a shortstop who is said to have belonged to Cincinnati at one time. He will be looked over here and if he is right Benny Jewell will go to the outfield.

Montgomery had not had a talk with Harry Corns up to this afternoon and it is not likely that he will sign him as his pitching staff is about full.

SCORE VICTORY AT PERU.

Shamrocks Win in First Innings of Exciting Battle.

Manager Mart Cleary and his fast Shambrocks hung up another victory in their game at Peru yesterday when they went after the local pitcher in the first inning and scored three runs. These would have been enough but two were added. Robbins held Peru to four hits and one run and the Shamrocks played in excellent form all the way.

WANTS SCHEDULE REVISED.

It is likely that the Central league schedule will be revised and that some changes will be made before July 15. This is rendered necessary by the addition of Newark to the circuit which will make it an expensive undertaking to try to play it out with the same dates that are now arranged.

CLAIMS OF FOUL ARE GROUNDLESS

Moran Wants Another Battle and Says He Was Fouled Often.

FIGHT DRAWS $45,000

San Francisco, July 5.—Friends of Owen Moran, the English lightweight, so decisively beaten in his Fourth of July battle with Ad Wolgast, still claim that their man was repeadtely fouled during the mill and that in the thirteenth round when the champion swung a stiff right to the jaw that sent his opponent down for the count, the Michigan wildcat had struck several blows below the belt.

Outside of the little coterie in Moran's corner during the mill this claim is regarded as groundless and Referee Jack Welch only laughed when the matter was brought to his attention and said that it was Wolgast's battle from the start and the general opinion is that if the winner had wanted to take a long chance he could have put his man out earlier in the battle.

Eastern critics who saw Wolgast in his short bouts at New York and Boston and who were disposed to call him a cheese champion, agree that he is the greatest little bit of fighting energy on the globe and say that the statement made by Manager Tom Jones that the short fights were merely for the purpose of trying out Wolgast's broken arm is in all probability true.

It is estimated that 11,000 people attended the mill and that with prices ranging from $2 to $20 the receipts at the gate aggregated about $45,000.

There never was a time after the first few rounds when there was a doubt as to the result. Wolgast was the fighting force, the aggressive little demon, and it was plainly seen that his game and veteran rival slowly was wilting under the crushing punches he was taking to the midsection.

Moran fought determinedly, with every ounce of strength he possessed, but he was outmatched in power of punch, in strength of body and in stamina. Moran had not the wind to go over a route with a bundle of energy like the champion. His wind failed after a few jolts to the stomach, and after the fifth round it could be easily noticed that he was distressed as he sat in his corner during the resting spells. His seconds worked like mad over him during the intermissions, but their work was of no avail. For no stimulants could offset the mauling and mussing around the ring veteran was getting in each and every round at the hands of his doughty young antagonist.

Wolgast, on the other hand, went to his corner after each session of fighting with a smile on his face and the utmost confidence in his demeanor. He knew he was the better man. He could tell when they were locked in clinchs that he was the stronger, that his blows were counting for more, and he could feel his opponent's strength ebb slowly round by round.

Ad sat in his corner, snappy-eyed, and chatted with friends about the ringside, while in the other angle of the ring Moran laid flat back in his handler's arms and breathed like a man who had just clipped off a fast mile run. He was going fast, while the Yankee was getting better with every round. In fact, he was just warming to his work at the finish.

The boys who battled for the honor of their respective countries in the prize ring hated one another cordially. It was a grudge fight in a way and they fought with wickedness in their punches and hatred in their faces. For Moran once had outboxed Wolgast when the Yankee lad was a boy and a beginner in the ring. And the wildcat was in there yesterday to get his revenge. He got it in large chunks.

The bout dispelled the idea that Moran was the harder hitter of the pair, however. Wolgast outpunched him in every round. For a boy who can do under 130 pounds the champion can hit with astonishing force. He punched with pile-driving force all during the battle yesterday, and it is doubtful if there is another 133-pounder in the world who could have stayed with him as long as Moran did.

LITTLE BITS OF SPORT CHATTER

While Jack Sheridan was getting a gold watch presented to him for faithful service in the American league Bill Klem was getting a $50 fine plastered on him.

Mickey McCarthy has been playing second base for Pittsburg while Bill McKechnie is serving three days for trouble he kicked up in a game last Saturday.

Bob Wallace has signed a hard-hitting collegian in Fred Busch of the Michigan Agricultural college team. He will join the Browns at once.

Linnerman, a semi-pro of Pittsburg, who tried a game with the Wheeling club, has been sent back home as he was found wanting.

Louis D. Smith has evidently learned that he has nothing to gain by airing his baseball affairs in the newspapers and has determined to let Eddie Wheeler's roar go for what it is worth.

Harry Martin has not joined the Terre Haute club and does not know just where he stands. He has about six weeks salary coming from Grand Rapids and is out of a job as he declines to become a Tot.

Kitty Bransfield, of the Phillies, the former first baseman, is hitting 1,000 at the present time. He is leading the National league, but he has been at bat only once and he got a hit that time.

Zeb Milan, the Washington outfielder, is superstitious about bats. He likes to use a different one every time he goes to the plate and is a soft mark for the bat dealers.

Rube Waddell has put something over on Joe Cantillon instead of Cantillon putting something over on the big southpaw. Evidently Joe loaned the Rube money every time he asked for it.

Frank Isbell made no mistake when he moved his ball team and all his belongings from Wichita to Pueblo, for the Pueblo team is now leading the Western league and Izzy can have anything he asks for in his new home.

Bobby Quinn, secretary of the Columbus team in the American association, has been named as the manager of the Mansfield team in the Ohio State league pending the effort of the club to purchase the release of Eddie Hahn from the White Sox club.

Frank Gotch, the wrestling champion, will prepare for his world's champion match with George Hackenschmidt, in his home town at Humboldt, Iowa. Hackenschmidt will train in London, assisted by Dr. B. F. Roller. The contest will be decided at Chicago on Labor day afternoon.

Frank Dolph, son of a wealthy South Bend merchant, is one of the few ball players in the game for glory. Dolph has no desire to break into league company, but every Sunday he will be found batting in runs for the crack Laporte Independent club. Dolph goes to and from the games in his big seven-passenger automobile.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

SECOND DROWNING OCCURS AT MARKLE

Bert Thompson, of Bluffton, Meets Death in Wabash River—Second Tragedy Within Week.

Bluffton, Ind., July 5.—While swimming in the Wabash river, near Markle, yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Bert Thompson, 25, of this city, met death by drowning. The accident occurred within two hundred feet of the spot where Everett Rogers met death in a similar way last Sunday afternoon.

Thompson with a friend by the name of Jacobs was attempting to swim across the stream, and two companions were following him with a skiff, when suddenly the victim of the accident threw up his arms and cried "Help me." Jacobs attempted to reach the sinking man but the distance was too great.

A crowd of excited people soon gathered at the spot and by diving the body was located and brought to the surface within fifteen minutes after it had disappeared. Doctors were summoned, but all efforts to revive the man proved fruitless.

The father of the young man, Ernest L. Thompson, is engaged in the manufacture of patent gates in this city. The decedent spent most of his life at Bluffton and Ossian, and is survived by both parents and several brothers and sisters.

The remains were brought home to Bluffton this evening.

FIRE AT HOWE SCHOOL.

Big Dining Hall Burns to the Ground—Will Be Rebuilt at Once. Partly Insured.

Howe, Ind., July 5.—McKenzie hall, the new dining hall of Howe school, a military institution of this place, was burned to the ground shortly after noon yesterday. The loss is estimated at $20,000, part of which is covered by insurance.

When the flames were first discovered they had gained such a headway that little could be done to check their progress. Dr. McKenzie, head of the school, and forty students were at lunch in the club room and when the alarm was sounded they formed a bucket brigade to subdue the flames; in the meantime a call for help being sent to Sturgis, Mich.

By heroic work the volunteer department and the boys put the fire out before any of the adjacent buildings were damaged or threatened. The help from Sturgis arrived after the flames had died down.

Scarcely had the embers cooled until the announcement was made that the dining hall would be rebuilt at once. It is expected that the work of rebuilding will be completed by the middle of the next school term.

Happy, Happy, Use TIZ

A Marvel For Sore Feet. Acts Right Off.

Sore Feet? Never After Using TIZ—

Good-bye sore feet, aching feet, swollen feet, sweaty feet, smelling feet, tired feet. Good-bye corns, callouses and bunions and raw spots.

You've never tried anything like TIZ before for your feet. It is different from anything ever before sold.

It acts at once and makes the feet feel remarkably fresh and sore-proof.

TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous exudations which bring on soreness of the feet, and is the only remedy that does. TIZ cleans out every pore and glorifies the feet—your feet.

You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain, and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and callouses. You'll feel like a new person.

If you don't find all this true after trying a box of TIZ, you can get your money right back.

TIZ is for sale at all druggists at 25 cents per box, or it will be sent you direct if you wish from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

QUIET FOURTH AT DECATUR.

All Business Houses Were Closed—Interurbans Busy.

Decatur, Ind., July 5.—This city had one of the quietest Fourths this year that she has ever had, and but for the occasional crack of a little firecracker shot off by some chap that couldn't get away to Monroe, Geneva or Fort Wayne the spirit of the "Fourth" might well have been declared dead. The interurban carried large crowds to Fort Wayne, while the G. R. & I. took equally large numbers to Monroe, where a brisk celebration was in order, including a speech by Hon. J. A. M. Adair, and to Geneva, where the six southern townships' Sunday School association had a joint picnic, a speech by Congressman Adair being also in order. Many of the members of the Baptist church of this city and Pleasant Mills had a picnic in the Parent grove south of this city, while the Evangelical church picnicked in the Henry Barkley grove southwest. Except for a band concert in the evening here, with a parade by the band boys, punctured here and there by a blazing skyrocket, there was no special demonstration in this city. All the business houses of the city were closed for the day, and the proprietors and employes, suffering from the great heat of the past half week, hied themselves to a shady and cool place to rest.

OVERCOME BY HEAT.

Van Wert, O., July 5.—While engaged in the task of clearing away the debris at the old central high school building Monday afternoon W. M. Dodson, of East Central avenue, was overcome by the heat about 2 o'clock in the afternoon and succumbed to unconsciousness. When it was seen that the man was in a serious condition he was taken to the home of Rev. Swank and a physician was called.

The doctor worked over the sick man for over two hours before he regained consciousness. He was then taken to his home, where it is said he will be confined for several days before he will be able to resume his work.

LITTLE GIRL INJURED.

Pierceton, Ind., July 5.—The three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ora Bowman, of near this place, was injured Sunday evening by falling against a cement step at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Helwig. A gash was cut in the child's forehead and the attending physician was compelled to take three stitches to close the wound.

BIRDS HAVE A GUARD OF MEN.

White Herons and Egrets Are Protected By the Audubon Society.

(New York Herald.)

Eight colonies of white herons and of American egrets, birds from which the algrettes of millinery are derived, have been located by the agents of the National Association of Audubon Societies and guards have been placed over each to protect the almost exterminated breeds from further depredations.

Following its decision not to accept the $25,000 a year offered by gun and powder manufacturers, who are joining in measures for the protection of game in order to keep up the demand for munitions of sport, the association has decided to devote itself with all energy to its original object. It was feared by its friends that the acceptance of the subsidy would force into a secondary position the protection of the song and insectivious birds for which the organization was originally founded.

Funds are now available for guarding the eight colonies found in Florida, the Carolinas and other parts of the south. The guards placed May 1 have done effective work. One of them figured in a shotgun duel which resulted in the retreat of an adventurous plumer. Another of the bird killers was overpowered and arrested by the guard and is now serving a term in jail.

Sprains require careful treatment. Keep quiet and apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely. It will remove the soreness and quickly restore the parts to a healthy condition. For sale by all dealers.

Such a Lankwitch!

Our language is a curious thing—
It is, upon my word!—
A crowd of folks we call a "throng,"
A throng of deer a "herd."

A herd of geese we term a "flock,"
A flock of ships a "fleet."
A "bevy" is the synonym
We use for maidens sweet.

A group of cops we call a "squad,"
A squad of thieves a "band."
No wonder aliens find our tongue
So hard to understand.

A band of wolves we call a "pack,"
A pack of bees a "swarm."
A swarm of herring is a "shoal;"
So lexicons inform.

Our noisy kids we term a "troop,"
A "gang" if hoodlums they.
If of barbarians we speak
A "horde" is what we say.

A horde of oxen is a "drove,"
A drove of whales a "school."
To learn the variants of this term
You've got to be no fool.
No, sirree!

HE CAPITALIZED LIGHTNING.

It Turned His Fowls' Feathers White and They Are Being Exhibited.

(Montville, N. J., Dispatch to New York Press.)

Hiram Vander-Plant, jr., of Montville, is making money out of lightning. A bolt of lightning tore one side out of his father's chicken coop, and the feathers on the sides of the chickens nearest the point where the lightning struck turned white. The phenomenon soon became widely known and parties arrived in motor cars and other conveyances to see the strange looking birds. Young Vander-Plant, with an eye to the main chance, drove the chickens into a barn, rigged up a ticket office on a barrel head outside the door, and collected ten cents from each person who entered. He was kept busy taking in the dimes, and when he counted up his profit he found he had almost $100.

The feathers have now changed back to their natural color, a fact verified by a great number of persons.

Nickel Plate Division B. L. E. Opens New Quarters.

Nickel Plate division, No. 537, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, has been fitted up and is now ready for occupancy. It is one of the prettiest, best lighted and best ventilated halls in the city, though of course it is not as large as some of the others. Pretty paper adorns the walls, handsome and expensive carpets cover the floor, while modern and convenient desks and chairs have been provided in abundance. The floor space which comprises the lodge headquarters is divided into four parts, as follows: Main lodge room in the northern part, 25x50 feet; ante-room, 10x25 feet; dining room, which can also be used for a lodge room, 30x25 feet, and kitchen at the south end of the floor, 10x25 feet. A number of the brotherhood men were engaged yesterday and today in placing the furniture and decorations and the first meeting in the hall will be the semi-monthly gathering of Anthony lodge, No. 804, B. L. F. & E., which has sub-leased it from the engineers, this evening. Division No. 537 will hold its first meeting in the new hall next Sunday, when arrangements for the formal dedication will be made.

Nickel Plate division was organized January 1, 1911, at a meeting in B. L. E. hall, on Calhoun street, and its members are all employes of the Nickel Plate company. At the meeting on New Year's day there were seventy-three members present to sign the charter roll and the latter was kept open a few weeks and when closed had eighty-three names on it. The division now has just 100 members and it is doing good work. Its rolls contain a number of names, it is said, that were not on the B. L. E. rolls before and would not have been placed there had the circumstances been different. The officers are: Robert John, chief engineer; J. W. Harber, first assistant engineer; H. T. Hooper, second assistant engineer; H. L. Reed, secretary-treasurer; T. E. Short, guide; P. W. Donahue, chaplain; Robert John, representative on the legislative board; M. J. Mahoney, alternate representative on the legislative board; M. W. O'Brien, J. W. Wells and Arthur Crapsen, board of adjustment; M. J. Mahoney, Joseph W. Harber and Samuel Hooper, trustees.

Anthony lodge, No. 804, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, was instituted February 17 with a membership of fifty composed of Nickel Plate employes. The new lodge was not the outcome of dissension or ill feeling in the ranks of A. G. Porter lodge, No. 161, but a belief that the Nickel Plate men, who as a rule live in another part of the city, would be better served by a lodge of their own, located near the Nickel Plate round house. The officers are: Past president, M. P. Perry; president, Nelson Garwood; vice president, W. P. Miller; recording secretary, Louis Koers; financial secretary, L. M. Chaney; conductor, W. O. Chaney; chaplain, E. M. Doty; warden, E. J. Chevanne; inner guard, Joseph Egolf; outer guard, Charles Frankhart; trustees, George Likely, Joseph Egolf and W. O. Chaney.

FIREMEN SUFFER FROM THE HEAT

Four Knights of the Scoop Overcome and Leave Engine.

The heat of the past three days has had its effect upon the absentee lists of firemen on the roads running in and out of Fort Wayne. The Pennsylvania reports four firemen were overcome by heat and had to abandon their engines yesterday, though none is in a serious condition. Three were T. J. Chaney, W. F. Biedenweg and L. A. Overmeyer. The fourth's name could not be learned. Engineers O. T. Peterson and C. Rost are sick and the excessive heat probably is responsible for their illness. L. R. Burkas, also a fireman, had the misfortune to have one of his arms scalded by steam and is on the absentee list.

"FRITZY" FEICK WILL SPEAK.

Garrett Labor Leader Will Address the Carpenters.

Fred L. Feick, of Garrett, a prominent leader in labor circles and a member of the legislative committee of the B. R. T., has consented to deliver an address at the open meeting of No. 232, Carpenters' union, tomorrow night and the carpenters earnestly request a big attendance of men engaged in the various crafts in Fort Wayne. Other speakers will be on hand and the meeting will be one of the best the carpenters have held. A public installation of the officers recently elected will be on the program also and after the speaking and installation exercises refreshments will be served. No. 232 now has 305 members in good standing and hopes to soon bring the list up to near the 400 mark.

PREPARING FOR BUSINESS.

Pennsylvania Anticipates Big Grain Movement.

Anticipating a big business soon in moving grain to the eastern markets, the Pennsylvania has ordered all grain cars placed in condition for service. As a result there will be greater activity in the car repair department of the shops here and elsewhere for awhile than has prevailed there for several months. A number of the car repairmen who were suspended last spring are being reinstated. This morning about a dozen of them were returned to the pay rolls and Monday a number of others were re-employed. Crop prospects, as stated by The Sentinel last Monday, are excellent and as soon as the harvests are over the roads will find use for all their cars.

HARD ON FIREMEN.

So Far Four Have Been Overcome by Heat.

The heat of the past three days has had its effect upon the absentee lists of firemen on the roads running in and out of Fort Wayne. The Pennsylvania reports four firemen were overcome by heat and had to abandon their engines yesterday, though none is in a serious condition. Three were T. J. Chaney, W. F. Biedenweg and L. A. Overmeyer. The fourth's name could not be learned. Engineers O. T. Peterson and C. Rost are sick and the excessive heat probably is responsible for their illness. L. R. Burkas, also a fireman, had the misfortune to have one of his arms scalded by steam and is on the absentee list.

SHOP FOREMEN IN CONFERENCE.

Wabash Men Here to Talk Over Matters.

Master Mechanic G. W. Smith, of the Wabash, summoned his general shop foremen here today with a view of discussing matters pertaining to the work in the shops. The meeting was held in Mr. Smith's office and those present, besides Mr. Smith, were H. Eisele, Fort Wayne; M. Elsner, Peru; H. T. Bohls, Toledo; J. N. Robertson, St. Thomas; J. L. Flinn, Montpelier; W. C. Bewley, Delray; A. L. King, Peru, and James Belle, Montpelier. The two latter are road foremen of engines.

ELECTRICIANS EXCURSION.

Traveling Passenger Agent Frank P. Parnin has received a number of window cards bearing a picture of the magnificent excursion steamer "Eastland" and giving her itinerary July 22, on which date she has been leased for use by the Electric works' excursionists to Cedar Point. This steamer will carry over 3,000 people, has a fine dancing deck with 3,200 square feet of floor, an upper deck provided with a stage or concert stand and one of the most musical calliopes ever put aboard a steamer. The steamer on the occasion referred to will leave her docks at Cedar Point at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and arrive there on the return trip at 3:30 o'clock, on the trip passing through the groups of islands towards Lakeside and touching at the famous Put-in-Bay.

WALLOPED BOTH GAMES.

It develops that the reticence concerning two ball games at Mahoningtown yesterday between a team composed of Pennsylvania road men and round house employes in this city and a similar team at Mahoningtown is due to the result of the contests. The Fort Wayne boys were badly walloped each game, the score in the first being Mahoningtown, 9; Fort Wayne, 2. In the second game Mahoningtown scored 5 and the Fort Wayne boys 4. Another game between these teams will take place in Fort Wayne at a date to be set later.

C. AND E. SPECIAL TRAINS.

Two special trains, one of eight cars and the other of nine, carrying delegates to the annual convention at Atlantic City of the Christian Endeavor, will pass through Fort Wayne at 5:30 and 8 o'clock, respectively, this evening. The first train will carry the Wisconsin, Iowa and Minnesota delegates and the last train will carry the Illinois delegates.

CAPTAIN DIEHL OUT.

Capt. H. M. Diehl was able to get down to the Pennsylvania motive power offices this morning and converse awhile with the men. He was taken sick a week ago and today was the first he was able to get down town since the attack began. He will probably be ready to resume his duties on the air brake instruction car early next week.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

Engineer C. W. Beacher, of the Vandalia, was rendered helpless for awhile Monday afternoon when a bolt of lightning struck his cab while in the Logansport yards. He had his hand on the air brake lever through which the electric current was conducted to him and knocked him off his seat. He was not seriously hurt, but he might have been killed.

WABASH INCREASES FORCE.

Ten men found employment in the Wabash shops this morning. They were Machinist John A. Sherman, Boilermakers Fred Vassaux and H. L. Sebastian, Machinist's Helpers J. J. Brothers and Frank Garrick, Boilermakers' Helpers T. Golden, F. C. Racle and A. O. Dubin and Laborers Michael Curry and G. Franadue.

IN OPERATION AGAIN.

The Bass works and the Bowser works resumed operations this morning. They were closed since last Friday, the former on account of the great heat and the Fourth and the Bowser works on account of the semi-annual inventory and for repairs to the floors and machinery.

WILL OPEN AN OFFICE.

Joseph A. Huley, ex-passenger engineer on the Nickel Plate, has severed connection with the W. P. Walsh real estate agency. He leaves in a day or two for Pittsburg on business and after his return he will open an office for a general real estate business.

ON HIS FIRST TRIP.

William H. Shorey, district passenger agent of the Wabash, started upon his first trip in that capacity this morning, when he went down the line as far as Lafayette. When he completes this trip he will then cover the northern Indiana and southern Michigan part of his territory.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Division Storekeeper C. P. Cherry is in Pittsburg on business for the Pennsylvania.

Blacksmith I. Sorg, of the Pennsylvania, is off duty on account of the serious illness of his baby.

George Schwartz, a machinist at the Kerr Murray works, and his wife, are at Rome City for a two weeks' stay.

Ed T. Conway, who was sick a week, was able to resume his duties at the Pennsylvania round house office yesterday.

William Schulz, foreman of one of the departments of the Electric works, is at Crooked Lake for a ten days' outing.

Supt. B. H. Hudson, of the G. R. & I., has returned from Atlantic City, where he attended a meeting of railway men last Saturday.

Titus Johnson, who represents the New York Central lines, inspected a number of car wheels and car castings at the Bass foundry today.

Master Car Builder J. A. Graham and Chief Car Inspector Adam LaMar, of the Pennsylvania, with their families, have returned from Emsworth, Pa., where they went a few days ago to attend the funeral of Mr. Graham's aged mother, Mrs. Martha Graham.

Clarence H. Lapp, an apprentice in the Pennsylvania erecting shop, had an arm burned yesterday with fireworks and will be off duty a few days as a result. Other shopmen off duty on account of sickness are J. Rost, F. A. Darby, G. A. Lash and F. J. Ruch. The latter has the rheumatism and is quite sorely afflicted.

Harry Emmerson, gang foreman in the Pennsylvania machine shop, has returned from a visit with relatives at Wabash. A. Husselman, tool room attendant at the Pennsylvania erecting shop, has also reported for work. He has been visiting at Story, Ohio.

THERE IS A PLACE IN FORT WAYNE, WHERE YOU MAY GO WIT FULL ASSURANCE OF BEING POSITIVELY CURED AND ENTIRELY RID OF THE DISEASES FROM WHICH YOU SUFFER. THOSE DISEASES AND WEAKNESSES THAT UNDERMINE YOUR STRENTH, HEALTH AND VIGOR, SO ESSENTIAL TO YOUR SUCCESS, HAPPINESS AND WELL-BEING. THAT PLACE IS THE OFFICE OF THE MODERN SPECIALIST,

DR. E. W. MORELAND

Who treats successfully all Chronic, Nervous and Special Diseases.

Consultation and Advice Free.

GET CURED

Weakness and Disease were formerly looked upon as very unfortunate conditions, because patients did not know where to go for relief, or because medical science had discovered no positive cure for them, but in this age of medical advancement there are few diseases but that will yield to science and skilled treatment such as I use. Since the age of SPECIALISM people readily know where to go for relief. If they remain uncured it is their own fault, and others have but little sympathy for them. In fact, there is an unpleasant aura about those diseased which causes people to shun them. There is an attraction about robust health that draws those of your circle of acquaintances to you. There is a joy about health that must be experienced in order to be appreciated. The satisfaction of being able to look every man and woman in the eye, knowing that your affliction is gone, is worth more than can be valued in dollars to one who has been afflicted. To get cured is not only a duty that you owe yourself, but one you owe your family, your country, your neighbors and your God. I have made a special study of the Nervous System, and have perfected methods that will cure PELVIC DISEASES. I will give you a searching and thorough examination, thus determining the exact location and nature of the disease. I have the most complete and thoroughly equipped office in the city for the cureof Pelvic Diseases. In fact, I am the only exclusive PELVIC SPECIALIST in the city, limiting my practice to the treatment and cure of but FIFTEEN DISEASES, Viz:. Rupture, Piles, Fistula, Prostatitis, Cystitis, Obstructions, Knotty Veins or Varicocele, Hydrocysts, Blood Poison, Nervous Debility, Atrophy, Kidney, Acquired and Specific Diseases.

THE TREATMENT I have used in curing many others who had the diseases and symptoms mentioned below is exactly what I will give you and that YOU ARE SURE TO BE CURED BY TAKING.

VARICOCELE-ENLARGEMENTS—My treatment cure will cause the enlargement or knotty-like condition or varicocle, to at once disappear. I do it without cutting and all symptoms are soon gone.

NERVOUS DEBILITY, FUNCTIONAL DECLINE—If you are weak, nervous, have lost vitality, back pains, no strength or ambition, I can quickly relieve you of all such symptoms of weakness and make you strong.

KIDNEY COMPLAINTS—The majority of these cases I treat are benefited so fast they are cured before they expect it. They don't come back for treatment after I dismiss them—it's a permanent cure.

BLOOD POISON—Treatment for only a short time cures rash, swellings, sore mouth and throat, pains, aches, removes every sign and symptom—it stays cured, and I can assure you the treatment is not ordinary mercury and potash, like other specialists give you.

RUPTURE CURED—The majority of cases cured in a few treatments without cutting, pain or risk. Ninety per cent of Surgical Operations are failures. My records show a perfect cure in 95 per cent of cases treated. I know you will think it impossible to cure ruptures as I do. Let me prove it by what I have done. It will be the happiest time of your life when you return home cured.

FISTUULA, PILES—I can cure you so quickly and easily that you will be surprised. I will give you just the result and cure you are looking for without a surgical operation. INHERITED, ACQUIRED AND SPECIFIC DISEASES—Scientifically and quickly cured. No bad results following. If you have been disappointed elsewhere, let me cure you to stay cured.

OBSTRUCTIONS—My cure dissolves obstructions completely, allays all inflammation, cleanses and heals the bladder and kidneys when irritated or congested and restores health and soundness to all parts affected by the disease.

INVESTIGATE my ability, distinctive methods and reasonable charges before placing your case elsewhere.

THE MARKETS

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., July 5.—Because of the withering heat, the price of corn today jumped up as much as 4¾ cents a bushel. For the same reason, oats made a skyward leap of 2¼@2¾c.

The corn market was boiling with excitement right from the start. Buying orders seemed to pile in from all directions, but sellers were scarce. The flurry received greater impetus from the fact that Kansas City reported an advance of 5 cents a bushel there, compared with last previous quotations. There as well as here the intense heat over the corn belt was the big factor. A circumstance making matters worse from a crop standpoint was the almost complete absence of moisture for the last few days. Besides, world shipments were reported as much lighter than had been looked for, and Liverpool dispatches told of heavy covering by shorts. The opening here ranged all the way from 2½ to 4¾c higher. On the same options, trades in different parts of the pit at a given moment varied as much as 2½c cents apart. The greatest relative rise was in the July delivery. Sept., which was the most active future, started 2½c to 4c up at 64¼c to 66c and finally steadied around 65½c.

In the oats crowd traders were almost as much exercised as in the corn pit. Business was on a huge scale. The specific news that attracted greatest attention was an official report from Iowa showing a falling off of 28 per cent in the condition of the oats crop in that state. Most of the damage was laid to the excessive heat and to the lack of rain. Sept. opened 7⅛@1c to 2⅛@2¼c higher at 46¾ and held at about 46c.

Wheat was affected chiefly by the bulge in the coarse grains. Offerings were unusually light, with commission houses and pit traders almost unanimously taking the bull side. Reports of excessive heat added to the discomfort of the bears and so did official advices of a depressing sort from Germany. The opening was 5⅛c to 1¾c up. Sept. started at 90⅜c to 91½c, a gain of ⅜c to 1½c and ascended to 91¾c.

Provisions sympathized with the advance of cereals, but receded on account of an extraordinary increase shown in the world's lard supply. First sales were unchanged to 7½c high with Sept. delivery $15.95 for pork, $8.45 to $8.47½ for lard and $8.62½ to $8.65 for ribs.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, July 5.—The selling movement of Monday was resumed on a larger scale on the stock exchange today. Opening prices showed material losses, the most severe of which was a decline of 3¾ in Canadian Pacific. Union Pacific lost 2 points, Great Northern preferred 1½; Amalgamated Copper 1 and St. Paul, Atchison, Reading and Erie First preferred a point.

The low prices of the first hour were quite generally established in the initial dealings, subsequent selling being scattered and of no general effect on prices. Supporting orders caused slight recoveries, but speculation grew dull on the rally. Bull operations were hampered by the strong advance in grain prices on the unfavorable weather conditions.

Although crop reports contained as much that was favorable as otherwise bear operators sold stocks heavily this morning in the expectation that the continued hot weather would inflict heavy damage. Prices broke sharply at first, but the market soon grew steadier and recovered part of its loss. The Moroccoan situation, which was a bearish factor on Monday, was ignored today, and there was no recurrence of pressure on this market from abroad.

The decline of four points in Canadian Pacific and of lesser amounts in the Erie issues was expected as being due to the official denial by the head of the Canadian line that it was to obtain control of the Erie. Recoveries from the low level became more extended during the second hour. Canadian Pacific rallying 1½. Activity, however, gradually diminished as the rise proceeded

Most of the buying seemed to originate on the floor. Bonds were easier.

The market closed weak, the late selling of the bear faction, overcame the effect of private reports of rain in heat stricken sections and the market sagged heavily. St. Paul and the Harriman and Hill stocks bore the brunt of the settling but some round amounts of various specialties were also disposed of.

HOLD SIGNATURE IS NOT GENUINE

Board Holds Up Contract to See Whether Aged Woman Signed.

CLINTON STREET LET

Property owners who want asphalt on Lieth street state that the signature of Mrs. Helen Dickey, asking that brick be used, is not genuine, as she is 90 years old and not able to write as legibly as the name appears on the petition.

Because of this dispute the board of public works could not let the contract for paving the street this forenoon and held it up until late this afternoon and in the meantime they will investigate. If she signed the petition and is in favor of brick that material will be used, but in event she denies that she made the choice the asphalt adherent will win out.

There was a heated argument before the board today when the paving of the street came up and after all the signatures had been carefully revised this was the only one on which the board was doubtful.

No effort was made to change the selection by the board of brick chosen for Clinton street from Superior to St. Mary's river bridge. The contract was awarded to the Moellering Construction company.
